What our READERS SAY

Atheists in Education

"I am a student from India attending a New York university. When I came to the United States I expected to continue the same pattern of life, but to my great surprise I find that the university atmosphere, though very intellectual, has not much to contribute to the spiritual aspect of the student. In fact, in some of my class discussions, I find the American students totally denying the very existence of God. The more intellectual they are, the more they seem to believe that the existence of God is just a superstition. People may say that I come from an underdeveloped country, and because of the absence of material comforts I have turned to God for help and comfort. I doubt very much if this is so. I would appreciate it if you would send me the pamphlet Seven Proofs God Exists."

Veinala P.,
New York, New York

"I heard your broadcast over my shortwave radio last night, and although reception was poor, it had a strong impact on me. I am only 15 years old but I can't accept the direction my generation is taking. Their philosophies seem to revolve around materialism and doomsday. Now they even preach that 'God is dead.' In this day of mass confusion and political 'cure-alls' the Holy Bible has proven to me to be the only course of action and belief that is definite and non-contradictory. Thus I would be very appreciative if you would send me your literature. I have one major question though: Are you advocating liberal or conservative action in conjunction with God's work?"

John H. R., Malvern,
Pennsylvania

• Whatever label people hang on TOTAL ACCEPTANCE AND OBEDIENCE—that's what we advocate.

Communism

"I have decided that the answers to all the world's problems lie in Communism.

I traveled from Moscow to Peking. All along the rail journey I saw advancement in industry, in agriculture, and the people were happy. In our so-called 'Christian' countries I saw the peasants dominated by the rich, and the rich were mainly the senior members of the Church. This brought home to me Marx's saying, 'Religion is the opium of the people.' I saw the huge confidence trick which the church is. So friend, give me socialism any day."

William P., Bristol, England

Herr Strauss

"Your amazing prophecy revealing the events of the future was tonight brought home to me with a real bang. For years you have told of the United States of Europe. Well, tonight I heard Herr Strauss, former Defence Minister of West Germany, tell a radio audience that only an agreement between France and West Germany was needed to begin the move. This would be followed by a federation and then finally a UNITED STATES OF EUROPE. To hear this from such an influential person and then to think back on your own words makes one wonder just how you can be so deadly accurate in your prophecies, but on second thought, you just cannot be wrong because you have God and the Bible behind you, and with this help you must be right."

Man, Johannesburg, South Africa

"I must admit I never dreamed the Bible had anything to do with the world of today. I always thought the Old Testament was a history of the ancient Jews, and that the New Testament was just about a very good man who lived nearly two thousand years ago. When I wrote to you last week, I expected your booklets to be full of the same confused sort of stuff that is

WHAT A WORLD WE live in! There are two ways of looking at it. They are totally opposite views. Each presents a true picture.

Most people think this is a WONDERFUL world—a progressive world far advanced. They look at the THINGS the world has produced in the past century, and they see only marvelous progress, breathtaking productions, amazing advancement. All the way from the sewing machine and the steamboat to nuclear power and space flight.

But they make the mistake of measuring HUMAN progress by mechanical production.

Then we may look at the picture another way—and this, too, is a TRUE picture. And this part of the WHOLE picture more accurately portrays what is happening to MAN.

I suppose most of our readers know that Ambassador College, on its Pasadena campus, maintains its own News Bureau. Trained news men in this Bureau devote full time to culling out the significant news for the benefit of our broadcasters on The WORLD TOMORROW—in four languages—and our editors and writers on The PLAIN TRUTH. We have our own special wire service teletype, UPI, clicking off the very latest news 24 hours a day—just like daily newspapers, and the radio and TV News Bureaus. News magazines and private news reporting services from around the world are received and carefully checked here. Our News Bureau has at its fingertips the news sources of the whole world.

Looking over a few recent news releases from our News Bureau, we see the horrifying TREND. Let me give you a brief summary—and then let me explain the CAUSE, and the CURE which most certainly is coming—SOON!

In the private News Report printed solely for our own staff writers and broadcasters, dated June 24, is this headline: "DISARMAMENT CHIEF WARNS OF 'UNKNOWN ATTACKER.'" The chief disarmament negotiator for the United States is William C. Foster. In Brussels, he warned that if many more countries develop nuclear power, "a country could be attacked without knowing who the attacker was." Already, he said, so many nuclear weapons are in possession of major powers that the whole population of the world can be wiped out "many times over."

Man produced swords and spears. He used them. Even in ancient times, hundreds of thousands of soldiers were killed in a single day's battle. Then man developed the bow and arrow—shooting farther than a sword could strike. Then came the gun, then the cannon, then the airplane dropping bombs. World War II ended with two Japanese cities destroyed by two atom bombs. But since, has come the Hydrogen Bomb, a thousand times more destructive. Every weapon so far invented has been used! Is there any reason to suppose the H-bomb will not be used?

The next news item reports that in a Message to Congress, President Johnson said, "...the fact of crime, and the fear of crime, mark the life of every American." Further, "In the past decade, we have seen crimes of violence increase 40 percent, and crimes against property rise 61 percent, although our population growth was only 10 percent.

"There is a forcible rape every 26 minutes—

"A robbery every five minutes—

"An aggravated assault every three minutes—

"A car theft every single minute—

"A burglary every 28 seconds—

"With increasing frequency we hear apologists excuse lawlessness on the grounds of poverty, poor housing, un-

THE GRIM DILEMMA OF GOVERNMENT

Now emerging as the big headache of our times—GOVERNMENT. NATO in trouble; the reunification of Germany again becoming an issue; the developing arms race in the Mideast; Vietnam; the emergence of several new governments each year—the world finds itself with a whole new set of headaches unimagined only a few years ago. What does it all mean? Where is it LEADING? What will be the final solution?

by Garner Ted Armstrong

GOVERNMENT is the biggest business on earth. In many nations, the government is the biggest land owner, the biggest employer, the biggest investor, the biggest spender, and has the biggest headache and the biggest hangover.

The whole history of man revolves around the attempt of human beings to govern themselves without interference from any outside source. Government implies order. Government means law.

But, paradoxically, these tremendous and worthwhile commodities are becoming increasingly sparse in a lawless and chaotic world. Today the greatest attempt of man at world government in all history appears doomed to failure!

With the continuing dilution of the United Nations, and the creation of several new nations each year, the world finds itself with a grim new set of problems for which there appear no solutions.

The Problems Labeled "Insoluble."

Strangely, in this world of giant headaches and huge hangovers, the United States and Great Britain seem to automatically inherit all the problems labeled "insoluble" around the world.

The biggest and most all-consuming headache facing any government today is how to achieve world peace!

Yet no existing government knows!

Each new administration in the United States realizes it is saddled with the almost impossible burden of leading all other governments who strive toward peace on earth, the rights of the individual, and the settlement of international disputes through world courts of law.

The problems of government today are no longer confined to the domestic considerations of food, shelter and clothing for any given nation. Rather, the governmental system of each nation, no matter how small, has suddenly become the headaches and problems of every other nation, no matter how large!

First and foremost, the constant, steady, monotonous increase of population is of the biggest moment, and the utmost concern to all governments on earth today.

If there were no hydrogen bombs, no conflicts between the big ideologies, no religious differences, no racial differences, and if there were, in short, NONE of the myriad problems confronting the world today except this single awesome problem, the "population explosion" all by itself would be the most gigantic headache to ever chill the brain of man since Eve beheld the lifeless body of her son Abel lying murdered in the field!

And what are the solutions to the population explosion?

Leaders in government know the population explosion is not even remotely controllable. If it were, the beginning elements of control would involve massive, worldwide education, complete reversal and modernization of ancient, time-honored religious concepts, the sudden discarding of thousands of weird, superstitious tribal taboos, a total change in the customs of dozens of societies and religions, and a massive, globe-girdling onslaught of scientific and clinical information to the entire population of the world—not to mention the manufacture, distribution, sale, and education in the use of various birth-control measures.

Any such program is, of course, utterly and excruciatingly impossible!

But the population explosion only implies bigger and more awesome headaches.

In direct relationship to the population explosion, and as an immediate result of it, come the awesome, all-consuming, brain-chilling FOOD WARS of the future. Already, the world is being given a faint glimpse of what can happen to the simple, everyday pressure of growing populations with not enough food to eat.

The screaming, enraged, rock-throwing crowds of many sections of India today are only the faintest warning of the beginning mutterings of the unsatisfied voices of hundreds of millions of human beings who realize the impending day of their bloated, agonizing, slow-death starvation draws near!

But again, the food wars of the future—staggering though they seem—are only a part of the picture.

World famine has been predicted, not by religious fanatics, but by steady, sober, serious-minded researchers who have dedicated themselves to painstaking collection of facts and statistics based upon populations plus arable acres minus minimum daily food requirements.

And, like it or not, believe it or not, accept it or not—the fact remains the same; worldwide DROUGHT is fully expected by all experts some time in the early 1970s!

Next in the wake of this impending calamity comes mounting disease epidemics! The simple crowding of human beings together, plus the lack of foodstuffs, plus the fights, squabbles, battles and wars—means unparalleled disease. Like the "black death" (bubonic plague) that in many areas swept fully 50 percent of the population of Europe and England from the face of the earth so many centuries ago, the disease epidemics of the future will be so staggering in proportion there does not remain sufficient words in the English language to describe them.

All this—and we haven't yet mentioned the hydrogen bomb!

But the hydrogen bomb deserves mentioning!

Under The Shadow of The Bomb

With the escalation in the number of members of the "Nuclear Club," the world faces a whole new set of incredible headaches.

Recent reports indicate Red China has exploded a hydrogen bomb! Yet, our calloused populaces can scarcely digest this fact, even though the announcement that RUSSIA had exploded a similar device clear back in 1950 so shocked and appalled us we could scarcely believe it at the time.

And how delicate, and intricate, are the headaches attendant upon the world pile of H-bombs.

To give you even the beginning concept, the bombs on hand in the world today are equal to 100 TRILLION pounds of TNT!

Remember, one trillion represents 1,000 BILLION! And a billion is exactly one thousand MILLION!

Put in different terms, that means there is enough explosive force repre-

The MODERN ATHENIANS in Today's Universities

What every student ought to know before deciding whether to go to—or remain in—college. Behind the aura of respectability and public acceptance are some shocking FACTS!

by Herbert W. Armstrong

THIS WORLD HAS REACHED A NEW CRISIS in education! It accompanies a world crisis in which the very existence of human life is threatened!

This world is what its leaders have made it. People follow leaders. The leaders are the product of 20th century college and university education.

If you will observe—and think—you will notice a few things not generally realized. The physical things, forces and powers being produced by man in such dazzling progression have blinded most eyes to a basic TRUTH: we have developed the things while we have degenerated the MAN. And secondly, this world, in all phases of its society, ignores a basic truism: there is a CAUSE for every effect.

In this world today, despite the brilliant productions of science, technology and industry, we have a decidedly ill effect—an evil RESULT. We live in a very sick world! And this world stumbles along from bad to worse, ignoring the cause, trying to treat the effect. It proceeds along THE WAY which causes its troubles, and then attempts desperately to nullify, alleviate, or remove the sorry result. There is A WAY which would CAUSE (bring) peace, happiness, abundant well-being. The world wants that RESULT, but REBELS against that WAY!

There is a REASON!

Since this world is what its leaders have made it, and since the leaders are the product of today's education, it is axiomatic that a major CAUSE of world troubles and world problems is FAULTY EDUCATION.

I am not one to sit on the sidelines and criticize—unless I have the solution, and am doing something about it. So, let's look briefly at the CONDITION, then at the CAUSES, and finally, to the SOLUTION.

Mrs. Armstrong and I have just returned from a trip around the world. After a short day and a half in Honolulu, and three and a half weeks developing the interests of The WORLD TOMORROW broadcast and The PLAIN TRUTH magazine in Australia, we saw China for the first time. Not Communist China, but the British colony Hong Kong. Nevertheless Hong Kong is CHINA—one of China's major cities. Its 3 million population (natives say 4 million) is 99 percent Chinese.

There we saw something very few in America or any Commonwealth country realize. Of course we saw what all tourists see—the many blocks of modern towering skyscrapers, with smart shops tempting occidental tourists with duty-free low prices. But also we went behind the scenes to see how the rank and file of the Chinese live. And there we saw degeneration, poverty, ignorance, squalor, filth, and degradation such as few of our readers have ever seen. And the stench—well words can't describe—you can't smell words!

Although every country has its upper class, they are the small minority in countries like China, India, the Middle East countries, and many in Africa—and there is virtually no middle class.

We flew over Vietnam, but stopped at Bangkok, Bombay and Teheran. And I had previously been in Calcutta, Singapore, Karachi and Cairo.

The point I want to make—the FACT most PLAIN TRUTH readers probably never even remotely realized—is that between HALF and TWO THIRDS of all the people on the face of the earth today are living in this state of abject poverty, half-starvation (and millions actually starving), sickness and disease, and wretchedness such as you have never seen! More than HALF!

The teeming MASSES of humanity today live in shameful conditions of illiteracy, poverty and filth. That is THIS WORLD—TODAY!

But then we returned to our part of the world where education is almost universal. In this modern society in which WE have been born—in our affluent "HAVE" nations, the product of westernized education—a man is regarded as successful if he has acquired material competence.

Is This Success?

I have known hundreds of rich men. Their bank accounts may be full, but their lives are empty. The more they acquire, the more they want. I don't believe I have yet known a really happy multimillionaire. Many of this world's most highly educated are cynical, contemptuous, agnostic.

In our Western world hospitals are a major industry, crowded to overflowing; one in ten of our "educated" population is a mental case; jails and prisons are over-filled, with perhaps most of the criminal element still running loose; divorces are on the rapid increase; juvenile delinquency at an all-time high; morals have skidded all the way down to the "New Morality!"

The colleges and universities, with rare exception, are not interested in students' morals or character—and campus pre-marital pregnancies, as well as

THE POWER PLAY THAT FAILED

In rapid-fire order, De Gaulle toured Soviet Russia, demanded U. S. leave Vietnam, ordered French scientists to begin atomic bomb test series in Pacific. Paradoxically, De Gaulle's failure in Moscow poses new threat to U. S. in Europe! Here's why.

by Herman L. Hoeh

SUDDENLY events have speeded up in Europe.

De Gaulle, defying NATO, journeyed to Moscow and entered into private discussion with Russian leaders.

To dramatize his nation's illusive greatness, De Gaulle scheduled French atomic testing in Pacific to coincide with the Moscow trip. French officials then accused the U. S. of spying on the atomic explosions.

Russian officials were unimpressed with French power.

West Europeans were impressed—but with their weakness! They saw themselves politically naked—divided, disunited.

At the very moment De Gaulle's trip was hitting the headlines, a far more significant event struck Europe. Communist Dictator Tito of Yugoslavia, after months of secret negotiations, restored diplomatic relations with the Vatican. Few Americans caught the vital, prophetic meaning of the Vatican-Yugoslav negotiations.

The French-German Struggle for Power

It's time we looked under cover.

What is taking place in Europe? Just this: a hard-fought jockeying for power—a struggle to control the burgeoning economic and military power of Western Europe.

The United States wants a strong and United Western Europe integrated in a U. S.-dominated NATO Alliance. But American officials see themselves frustrated at every turn by De Gaulle.

De Gaulle, too, wants a strong Europe. But a Europe loosely joined together, acting as a third force in the world. This Grand European Alliance of De Gaulle's dreams would mediate between East and West. France, of course, would dominate it, with the Germans playing second role.

The Germans playing second role? Not if the Germans have anything to say about it!

De Gaulle first attempted to limit future German power by forming a Franco-German alliance with aging Chancellor Adenauer. Germany would supply to the new Europe the bigger share of economic power, France the greater military share.

The French President next sought to limit U. S. power in Europe, by challenging U. S. dominance, and gradually withdrawing French forces from NATO. He expected other European nations would catch the vision and follow French leadership.

They did not.

The Germans, instead of acknowledging French leadership, demanded the U. S. remain dominant in Europe, supported U. S. Vietnam policy. The German price for support of U. S. policy was BIG. A heavier finger on the atomic trigger, and the right to fill the vacuum left by French abandonment of NATO commitments.

De Gaulle's departure from NATO backfired. So did his Franco-German alliance. West Germany is now stronger than ever. To counterbalance German influence, De Gaulle went to Moscow, sought to enlist Soviet help in creating his dream of a cultured new Europe extending from the Atlantic to the Urals. The Russians listened, gave De Gaulle a grand tour, spoke out against the U. S.—then bid him adieu.

A direct-from-Paris report on De Gaulle's trip to the Soviet Union—and its prophetic significance—will appear in next month's PLAIN TRUTH.

Meanwhile, West Europeans are frustrated. Prosperity they have. But political power—a say in the world—that they lack. Each European nation, by itself, cannot hope to compete with the Soviet Union or the United States.

The only alternative is to unite. But how? Who shall dominate the union? What kind of union shall it be? Who could be trusted to head it?

The French do not trust the Germans; the Germans would not for a moment let a Frenchman take the helm. The only answer is to find someone—some institution—above national politics and national rivalries.

Enter the Vatican

In all this, the restoration of diplomatic relations between Tito and the Vatican takes on real significance.

The United States is doing all in its power to avoid confrontation in Eastern Europe. Yet to become a world power, Europeans must move the Iron Curtain back—to the borders of the Soviet Union, if possible. France is too weak to achieve it. Only one power with sufficient diplomatic skill is emerging capable of doing that—the Vatican.

The Vatican has no great armies with which to threaten the Soviet Union. Millions of Catholics are in bondage behind the Iron Curtain. But Western Europe, mostly Catholic, does have what the Soviet Union needs—economic and industrial know-how. The Soviet Union is facing an internal economic crisis. She also is struggling with independent-minded Red satellites in Eastern Europe.

The situation is ready-made for a complete change in the world power structure. Red-dominated Eastern Europe needs an economic transfusion—the life-blood of trade, technical know-how. Western European nations need wider markets for industrial expansion. Neither side is capable of resolving existing differences. It will take a third party. Only the Vatican is in a position to diplomatically mediate between the Soviet Union and Western Europe. Only the Vatican carries the prestige needed to bring about a union of Western Europe's quarreling nations.

Burying Past Hatreds

Past national hatreds die slowly—if they ever die at all. Look at Western Europe. Out of the shambles and hate of the Second World War there was formed a Common Market—the Six. The hope was to unite Europe economically first, then politically. To bury past hatreds so another World War would never again occur.

But it hasn't worked out that way. There was the Cold War. Europe was caught in the middle. As a thaw developed in Europe, the American-sponsored North Atlantic Treaty Organization began to develop serious cracks. De Gaulle went his independent way. European union was put on ice.

The Vatican saw the crisis developing. To develop the Common Market as the nucleus of "the greatest Catholic super-state the world has ever seen," the Vatican had to act. The Pope descended into the realm of diplomacy and spoke to the world's statesmen. Vatican envoys privately entered into negotiations with Eastern European regimes. Tito's restoration of relations with the Vatican is the first step in a series that is destined to rock the world's diplomats and statesmen.

What will develop out of the new round of secret diplomacy is a New Europe—a prophesied union of ten nations that will totally reshape the pattern of the Western World. Here is what has happened already.

Significance of Treaty of Rome

The European Common Market was established by the Treaty of Rome. It automatically tied European economic development to the city of Rome, gave Europe a religious sense of unity, and the Roman Catholic Church its opportunity for a Church-State union as protection against Communism.

The non-Catholic public is not aware of basic Catholic policy.

The pontiffs virtually ruled the Western world for over 1200 years in the Middle Ages. During past centuries they successfully, and unsuccessfully, mediated between nations when ruling the Holy Roman Empire.

Just as the Catholic Church once interposed her order on nations and peoples, she again is proposing to establish a "Christian order which alone is able to guarantee peace. To this goal the resources of the Church now are directed." So said the late Pope Pius in a Christmas broadcast on December 24, 1951.

On February 10, 1952, Pope Pius XII exhorted the faithful of Rome: "The whole world must be rebuilt from its foundations." This is the gigantic task about which the world knows little.

A World Government Planned!

The obvious failure of the United Nations was long ago clearly foreseen by the Vatican. It was not caught unprepared in the present struggle for world rule between East and West. In fact, at the very time that the United Nations Conference was being held in San Francisco to chart a World Organization, a leading Roman Catholic prelate delivered a sermon telling why the United Nations would fail! Some of you may have read in those early years The PLAIN TRUTH report of that meeting in which the bishop quoted Psalm 127:1. "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it:

except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

The Catholic Church realizes what the politicians do not know—that God must be the AUTHOR and PRESERVER of peace and world order. It remains, according to Catholic teaching, for their Church to establish that order and preserve that peace.

The Goal Near Achievement

Remember, for over three quarters of a century, from the days of Garibaldi in Italy and Bismarck in Germany, the Church has striven to unite European civil governments as a way to peace. Although favorable to the Central Powers in World War I, the Vatican was unable to secure German-Italian unity. It was not until the 1930's that the Vatican signed concordats with Mussolini and Hitler, agreements which permitted the Church much of the freedom she sought.

However, Hitler's doctrine of racial supremacy was opposed to Catholic teaching on the unity of the human race. It was usually the Catholic Germans, according to some reports, who were more tolerant toward conquered nations of like faith. Being unable to control Hitler, the Catholic Church was one of the vital powers in bringing about the downfall of the Third Reich after the Nazis had gone underground.

With the collapse of Germany and Italy in the last war, there has been no outward sanction of any political party, although unofficial support of Christian Democrats has come from local prelates. This has become necessary in order to stem Communism. But basically, Christian Democrats and Socialists are NOT AUTHORITARIAN.

That is why, before the end of the last war, the Vatican made overtures to certain German leaders.

The Church needs a strong Germany now, just as much as in the times of the Germanic Holy Roman Empire.

What is taking place in Europe today are the diplomatic events destined to bring about the final prophesied restoration of the Roman Empire—in the tradition of Charlemagne, of Otto the sented by pounds of TNT for YOU, as a person, to weigh fully 28,000 pounds!

Perhaps a further comparison would shock you even more. There are not enough goods, foods, medicines, books, clothing, or any of the other commodities available which could be called necessities or luxuries of life to represent 28,000 pounds per person on earth!

Truthfully, there is not enough to represent even a substantial fraction of that weight.

Yet, as ultimate an irony as it seems, there is at this precise moment (and each day this amount is being increased) more pounds reserved for each human being in terms of total destructive force than are available to him for his own personal use to make life more worthwhile!

And the headaches of this atomic age simply defy description.

With neighbors who frankly hate each other, differing races, squabbling ideologies, conflicting languages and religions as the potential match to ignite a whole host of future world hot spots, more and more nations find themselves in a position to begin manufacturing atomic and hydrogen bombs.

Here's how the problem works!

How More Nations Join The "Atomic Club"

India knows Red China is completing massive troop buildups on the Indian border. India knows Red China has the Atomic Bomb, and possibly the HYDROGEN bomb. That means, in the most urgent considerations of national security, India MUST HAVE THE BOMB! Purely as a DEFENSIVE measure against Red China, of course.

But then there's Pakistan! The two Pakistans, ruptured asunder by the sprawling mass of India, exist as two separate geographical entities, yet one nation, born of violent hatreds between Hindu and Moslem. Should India build the bombs, Pakistanis would turn in desperation to the big powers—they would be FORCED to obtain nuclear weapons! Regardless as to India's claims she might build the bomb in self-defense, Pakistan would live in critical jeopardy every moment she did not build a nuclear force to counterbalance Indian nuclear arms.

Here's another part of the throbbing headache of nuclear escalation.

Indonesia may build a bomb in a few years. Indonesia hates Malaysia—has sworn to destroy the new federation. Indonesia lays claim to North Borneo, and Sukarno's guerrilla fighters infiltrating into North Borneo from Indonesia caused Britain to send airborne troops to Brunei where crack helicopter patrols still must watch the dangerous jungle border.

And what about Cuba? Should Cuba get the bomb—the entirety of Central and South America would tremble in fear. Castro would have achieved a fantastic ideological and propaganda weapon with which to cow and terrorize weak Central American neighbors. The United States would see the immediate spread of Castro-inspired communism into more and more of the Western Hemisphere.

And last, but by NO MEANS LEAST, there's Japan!

With China possessing the Bomb, does Japan DARE not build one of her own? Japan is the super-giant of the Orient, rising to dizzying heights of economic prosperity. As we have reported in past issues of this magazine, the world is YET to hear of alarming trends in Japan! Japan is the real force and power of the Orient. Make no mistake, the Japanese will not risk their booming industry and thriving economy to potential Red Chinese threat. Japan could join the "nuclear club" any time!

What kind of a world will it be—what kind of headaches for government—when up to FORTY NATIONS possess nuclear arms? Think about it.

Another of the almost incredible aspects of the problem is that fully 50 percent of all the hydrogen bombs manufactured by the United States are stockpiled in central Europe (primarily West Germany)! If you really know what your Bible says about the future of central Europe, and the soon-coming emergence of a United States of Europe, with a reunified, resurgent Germany at its head, the simple statement that one-half of all United-States-manufactured hydrogen bombs are stockpiled in Germany would sober you to the point of your deepest and most earnest moment of prayer!

It is impossible to take further space in this article concerning these MAJOR headaches confronting governments today. Not the next ten full issues of The PLAIN TRUTH with each article concerned primarily with that one problem alone could even begin to cover the subject!

Nuclear Nerves — and International Crises

Even the problems of diplomacy resulting from the stockpiling of H-bombs by the big powers are staggering. For instance, the United States has admitted, thus far, to 14 nuclear weapons accidents! And, in spite of all the reassurances from nuclear physicists concerning the engineering safety of nuclear weapons, no one can guarantee an explosion cannot occur accidentally!

As officials have pointed out, so long as it is necessary for America to maintain a nuclear bomber and missile force there will be accidents!

One of the most bizarre in all of the history of mankind was the recent accident involving a mid-air collision of American aircraft off Spain.

A worldwide furor was touched off as a result of this one case of happenstance. Every last vestige of American technology was employed to recover the nuclear device hanging precariously on a deep undersea canyon off Palomares, Spain. Only the most sophisticated of U. S. undersea exploration devices was able to accomplish the feat!

When you realize the "staying" power of the radioactivity of plutonium is almost indescribable—the terrible diplomatic problems come more clearly into focus. For example, the time it takes plutonium to lose half its radioactivity, or its "half-life," is calculated to be 24 thousand years! Theoretically, the traces of the accident in Spain remain, therefore, perpetual!

Can anyone safely guarantee there will not be a Russian, French, British, or even a Chinese nuclear weapons accident this year or the next?

The incredible headaches of governments over nuclear weapons are simply indescribable!

Space technology is yet another fantastic brain-stopper for the leaders of states. Now the biggest single industry in the United States, employing more people than any other part of the economy, the race to the stars has become one of the biggest political headaches of all time.

Charges and countercharges of spy satellites, the spectre of the approaching moment in world history when Russian cosmonauts will be sitting at the controls of orbiting satellites armed

Inside The Middle East

The Middle East is only one of world's many trouble spots. But it is destined to be the most dangerous. Newscasters are already warning that the big confrontation between East and West will take place here. At left is view of Mediterranean from Israel's port of Haifa. with nuclear weapons; the future possibility of the interruption of ground communications by satellite-borne jamming equipment; these are only a few of the space-age headaches graying the hairs and furrowing the brows of leaders of states today.

The whole panorama of this modern space-age technology defies description. The French timetable, calling for nuclear missiles to be operationable between 1968 and 1970—the rumors that Egypt is building a missile through Soviet aid—the fact that India and Pakistan could soon enter the "missile club," the approaching launch of an orbital satellite from Australia, and the first combined European space effort, only adds a few more dazzling problems to the headaches.

And so it is that government today is the biggest collection of imagination-defying, description-denying, unbelievable and incredible headaches the world has ever known.

The Dangerous Domestic Dilemmas

Time was when the domestic crises of many a small nation not only escaped the attention of the average citizen in other countries, but couldn't have captured his interest if he heard of it.

Today, however, the entire picture has changed. Now the domestic crises of small, forgotten, seemingly unimportant areas of the world are fraught with terrible dangers for the big powers!

A coup here, an election there, a riot in some far-off street, a flag or an effigy burning in front of an embassy, these seemingly unimportant domestic crises suddenly appear as the match that could spark nuclear-bomb war!

Take a look at the weird, crazy-quilt pattern of domestic crises around the world.

The continuing eruptions along the border of Israel and Syria, or Israel and Jordan mean constant nightmares for the big powers. Always apprehensive about the deep hatreds of some of the nations of the Middle East, the United States, Britain, France, Russia and other nations continue to sell arms to these nations in small dribbles, hoping that some sort of precarious balance can be achieved—ever watchful that tiny, spiteful border incidents could erupt into an all-out war in the Middle East.

Like a running sore, the deep hatreds between the Pakistanis and the Indians continue to worry the minds of elder statesmen the world over. The continuing threat (though little mentioned in recent news) of Nationalist China versus Red China gives cause for concern. The constant, nagging worry of German reunification has overtones that reach into every vestige of world power politics on a global scale. Ian Smith's white government of Rhodesia, versus the economic sanctions of Great Britain, added to the possible South African reaction mean trouble in that part of the world! The steeping, simmering resentment of the Spanish toward Britain over Gibraltar remains a running sore on the face of the earth—and is a constant source of threats and re-criminations in Spanish publications.

The tribal hostilities, religious resentments, superstitions and taboos of many of the African nations mean the imminent possibility of war almost anywhere on the African continent. The continuing war on the southern tip of Saudi-Arabia, with Feisal of Saudi-Arabia backing Aden while Nasser continues to support Yemen, means the possibility of yet another war in that part of the world.

Vietnam continues to dominate the headlines as a smoldering, heartbreaking, hopeless war which is not even called a war continues in that part of the world.

But even all THESE problems are supranational and foreign in nature.

The purely internal and domestic crises of dozens of nations are almost beyond belief.

The poverty, squalor, filth, degeneracy and illiteracy of much of the world can be understood only if you, as an individual, travel to such areas and see (and smell) conditions for yourself.

And even in the affluent nations the disease of "too much" has taken deep root.

Look at the crazed mania of the British to entertain themselves in the face of impending economic and political disaster.

Witness the insane urge of the younger generation to reach out and grasp the tattered shreds of a life which seems destined to disappear before it has begun.

The evidence is everywhere; in the mounting juvenile crime, wild sexual abandon, growing venereal disease, and toying with hallucinogens and brain-damaging drugs.

The boiling, bestial race hatreds running like a riptide of violence through the large cities of the United States are destined, according to nearly every observer, to erupt into full-scale racial war in the very near future.

Mounting crime, rising divorce, the bankruptcy of small businesses, the eroding of national morals and principles, the decay of religion, these are all part of the giant headaches inherited by any leader of a large and prosperous state. And, though you might not "like" to believe things are all this "bad," though you might like to HIDE your eyes from the stark TRUTH of these dizzying days of impending disaster, all these problems really DO confront governments of this world today, and not one single one of them seems to have any immediate solution!

It is a ridiculous over-simplification of these monumental problems to simply quote "gross national product," employment figures, shorter working hours, more leisure, minimum wages, and better "living conditions" for only a tiny FEW in this poverty-ridden world.

Anyone who feels these statements are "sensational" is so utterly out of touch with the brutal reality of world conditions as to appear locked in a mental straight-jacket, living in a world of rosy, self-created hallucinations.

Each "New" Government— Attempts Success Where Others Have Failed

The most immediate problems of ANY government are the three basics of life: food, shelter and clothing for the populace of the nation.

ALL governments have, while differing greatly in their methods of achieving these things, the same basic goals. They seek to govern their peoples in the particular fashion which that government has deemed most appropriate to give those peoples these basic essentials of life.

The American Cemetery at Anzio, grim reminder of just one battle against Fascism in World War II. Mr. Garner Ted Armstrong stands in foreground.

Government signifies by its very term, LAW and ORDER!

Yet, many governments are lawless and chaotic!

Governments today represent every extreme from totalitarianism to the "democratic" or republican form of rule by the majority.

Time and again—and in many cases in very recent history—nations have wildly supported a new-found champion who promised relief from their misery, higher wages, a burgeoning economy, settlement of all strifes and domestic issues, and a place of greater stature in the world—only to find their new-found "saviour" was just a leap from the frying pan into the fire.

Witness Cuba with its former government of corruption and police rule; the very epitome of the totalitarian state. After his successful revolution, Fidel Castro began his tireless and endless series of executions, vast reforms, and eloquent promises.

With brother Raul and Ché Guevara immediately established in dizzying pinnacles of power, the inevitable occurred. The economy began to stagnate, people were living in terrible fear, and all the usual trademarks of the power-drunk dictatorship began to appear: heavy taxation; nationalization of industries, transport and communications; agrarian "reforms;" compulsory military conscription; state control of all education; with increasing hardships and less food for all!

And the same pattern is being repeated in many a nation around the world, from Africa to Indonesia and Vietnam; from Uruguay and Guatemala to the Sudan.

The plain truth is, NO GOVERNMENT, no, not in the history of the world, has ever brought its people lasting peace, prosperity, and happiness!

True, certain governments have succeeded in achieving dizzying military conquests and glamorous economic heights. But each, in its own turn, tottered and toppled, leaving only the splintered shards, ruined buildings and dust-covered monuments to mark its passing.

Believe it or not, the problems of government ARE easily understood.

And it's exactly as simple as "two plus two equals four."

From the time the first men began to organize themselves, seeking to govern or rule their fellow men for the fulfillment of their hopes and dreams (whether those hopes and dreams were personal or national) each attempt at government has failed!

Look how simple it really is—and understand. From the time Cain killed

Abel, men have sought peace on earth. Today, in this modern world of the yawning gap of orbital satellites and illiteracy, this world stands in momentary jeopardy of that "ultimate insanity:" nuclear-bomb war, which would annihilate every last man, woman and child on earth!

It's the age of the H-hangover, space-sickness, technological terror, and nuclear nerves.

This war-weary world seems, at this moment, further from world peace, harmony and understanding between nations than it has ever been.

And so, just as simply as two plus two equals four, it is true that the ATTEMPTS of mankind to achieve PEACE, and to do it his own way, apart from HIS GOD, have resulted in this modern culture of chaos.

Where will it all end? How will it all resolve itself? What lies ahead in the FUTURE? These are the really BIG questions today—and apart from the revelation of Almighty GOD, the most unanswerable!

But there is an answer—and it really makes sense!

Next month, you'll see the tragic and pathetically humorous problems facing the United Nations; the impossible problem facing many new nations; and the FINAL SOLUTION to the problems of Government!

The MODERN ATHENIANS in Today's Universities

campus suicides, are on the rapid increase.

THIS is the world produced by an educational system that puts the emphasis almost solely on the intellect. This is the result of education unconcerned with moral and spiritual values, ignorant of the PURPOSE and real MEANING of life, failing to differentiate between the TRUE values and the false, not knowing THE WAY to peace, happiness, and abundant well-being!

In other words, we have a colossal system of education failing to teach the MOST IMPORTANT knowledge. And Modern Education is in the rut of tradition, from which it is helpless to escape. Its very system renders it impervious to change.

I'd like to interject here one reason for that. If there is any one place where a graduate is most unlikely to find a job, it is on the faculty of his alma mater. In almost any institution of higher learning you might select, you will find the faculty composed of people trained in a number of other universities. Thus the system is so tightly interwoven that no one institution is free to purge out evils, depart from error or wrong practice, or embrace truth or procedures unapproved by all the other schools. They are doubly protected against a leap from the rut, into any reform, by the system of accreditation. "Accreditation" is given by the various collegiate associations, and only to their own members. A rigid system of examination and inspection holds members securely in the vise of tradition.

I repeat: there is a CAUSE for every effect. So let's look briefly to the CAUSE which produced Modern Education.

How Faulty Education Began

Of course the basic pattern of society we call civilization was started by the original despot Nimrod. He "emancipated" a rebellious mankind of around 2,000 B.C. from the true knowledge and WAYS revealed by the Great Educator. But the academic system was established by the pagan philosopher Plato, disciple of Socrates, in the 4th century B.C.

The philosophic basis of education has continued to this day to be that of the pagan philosophers of ancient Greece and Rome—Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Epictetus, Virgil, Seneca. Those philosophers simply had not combined their speculations with the techniques of Modern Science.

The ancient Athenian philosophers indulged in moral perversion and devoted themselves to mental hobbies. The Athenians of the first century A.D.

Communists, anarchists, and deviates infiltrate many college campuses, influence a frustrated, bewildered younger generation.

spent their time in nothing else but either to tell, or hear, some new thing—some new theory, speculation or hypothesis (Acts 17:21). Few realize, today, how their method still prevails in modern education.

So, we have our modern Athenians! Today the purpose of scholarship is to contribute to the academic world some new theory or hypothesis; and, as of old, it is never a question of ultimate TRUTH. It is assumed there is no ultimate truth. Academic study is aimed at either overthrowing or establishing the probability of other scholars' hypotheses.

Our modern Athenians enjoy these supposed intellectual pursuits—not for their practical value, of which, usually, there is little or none, but for the enjoyable mental exercise. It's like a game!

One disillusioned graduate of a very famous British university said to me: "I wasted three years absorbing, studying and working with dead and unuseable knowledge." He then entered Ambassador College as an undergraduate freshman, to acquire the basic, important knowledge: what man is; why he is; the true values; THE WAY which is the CAUSE of right and desired RESULTS.

Of course there is a practical side to Modern Education.

The demands of Modern Industry and Technology, of Modern Science, and of the professions, have infused into the academic bloodstream a preponderance of technical training. So many college students learn how to earn a living—but they are not taught HOW TO LIVE!

And further, these very practical demands put the emphasis almost solely on intellect and technical materialistic training—at sacrifice of character, and of moral and spiritual values.

I have a book, The Sheepskin Psychosis, by John Keats (copyright 1965) which says: "Perhaps the most remarkable aspect of the parental anxiety is that it is not primarily concerned with education. It is concerned with jobs. The national preoccupation with college admission is rooted in the belief that a young man cannot hope to find a good job today unless he has a college diploma."

So, vanity and greed in human nature have led education into a crass materialism. It develops the machine while it degenerates the MAN. This neglect of the true values has led to educational decadence!

The Guilt of Modern Education

Modern Education is guilty of other crimes. It is guilty not only for what it fails to teach, but also of perverting what it does teach.

It may sound incredible to the average reader—it may even inspire a flush of indignation, when I say that Modern Education perpetuates false values, teaches distorted history, warped psychology, perverted arts and sciences, and much worthless, untrue, or unuseable knowledge. That, I know, is a serious indictment—BUT REGRETTABLY IT IS TRUE!

Modern Education puts on a dignified facade. It has succeeded in creating in the public mind the image of august respectability, professional dignity, authoritative infallibility. When we look behind that false front, we stand rather aghast at what we see revealed. Many educators know this, and wish they could change it. But, as I have said, they are helpless. They are in the clutch of a vicious self-perpetuating system impervious to change.

What young women college graduates should be like. These cultured young women are part of the graduating class of 1966 of Ambassador College, Pasadena, California.

Take history, as an example. Let's go behind the scenes for a moment. Let's peer behind that dignified facade, and see what historians confess, among themselves, behind closed doors.

Here is what one learned professor acknowledged at an annual meeting of one of these societies:

"History is art as well as fact; everyone in this room knows that the facts do not automatically arrange themselves without the historian's creative leap, which occurs in our craft as well as in the exact sciences. . ."

The tragic fact is that many have leaped from fact in the wrong direction! This particular historian revealed more. To fellow professors he disclosed how he had been asked to use his historical knowledge to draw up the case which brought about the Supreme Court decision to order desegregation.

He confessed:

"The problem we faced was not the historians' discovery of the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; the problem instead was the formulation of an adequate gloss. . . .

"It was not that we were engaged in formulating lies; there was nothing as crude and naive as that. But we were using facts, emphasizing facts, bearing down on facts, sliding off facts, quietly ignoring facts and, above all, interpreting facts in a way to . . . 'get by. . . .'"

In today's educational process, textbooks are assumed to be authoritative. The student is taught to accept whatever the "authorities" say or write. "They know!" the student supposes; "they have the facts!"

Yes, they have the facts. But when they have finished with manipulating those facts, twisting those facts, ignoring what they wish of those facts, unduly emphasizing other of those facts, the student accepts a distortion somewhat offset from the TRUTH. But then, do they not teach, falsely, that truth is relative—that there is no absolute TRUTH?

The Educated Guess

Another famous world-known historian, Hendrik Van Loon, dared to make the following confession:

"We live under the shadow of a gigantic question mark. What are we? Where did we come from? Whither are we bound? . . . We still know very little but we have reached the point where (with a fair degree of accuracy) we can GUESS at many things." In Modern Education it is these GUESSES that all too often masquerade as facts. Students assume that they are true.

Of course Modern Education is punctured with numerous conflicting ideas. That is why the average textbook is replete with such phrases as "Of course we know little about this factor, as yet, but we may well SUPPOSE thus and so." Or, "I think"; "I feel"; "I guess"; "We are coming to believe"; "It may safely be assumed"; "It would seem plausible to believe"; etc.; etc.; etc. You may often find a dozen such statements on a single page. Yet students—and lay readers—subconsciously accept such guesses as proven FACT.

If there is any field in which the average person might suppose knowledge is absolute and trustworthy, it is the field of medicine. One would think "medical scientists" ought to know but, writes Henry G. Bieler, M.D., "Medical literature is filled with conflicting ideas on what causes diseases—each with its fervent supporters."

But of course, as I stated earlier, Medical "Science," like the rest of this world, generally ignores the CAUSES, and treats the EFFECT.

Yet, still another evil, even more dangerous to humanity and its destiny, is now sweeping the world—being spawned in colleges and universities. This is the trend into PERVERSION.

The Impact of Perversion

The very FACT that Modern Education professes unconcern about moral and spiritual values leads automatically into their perversion.

This trend is permeating all strata of life—not only morals. It invades the fields of art, sculpture, music and literature. It is the new trend to go "odd-ball," "off-beat," weird, offset from the normal and true.

This trend invades not only the university campus and intellectual circles, but also the lower strata, and the world of the teen-agers.

The beatniks are one example. The "Beatles" do not spell their name like a certain insect, but as an off-set from the term "beatnik." You won't find the word "Beatles"—in either singular or plural—in the dictionary—unless it is an edition later than I have seen.

The "modern" beatniks are, simply, the "beat" generation. Long hair covering the forehead—hiding whatever intelligence they might possess—the narrow, tight-clinging trousers or jeans—their every distinguishing feature is intended to shout out a protest of rebellion. Rebellion against society. Rebellion against authority. Rebellion against Law and Order. Rebellion against TRUTH.

They create an image that says: "There's NO HOPE! There's NO PURPOSE! There's NO FUTURE! There's only frustration, failure, doomsday, oblivion!"

You won't see any of this on any Ambassador College campus—or, if ever you do, it won't take us five minutes to sweep it off!

But do not for a moment suppose we are "square!"

But this whole trend invades also the professed "intellectual" circles. It has won acceptance by leading artists, sculptors, architects, musicians.

The generally acknowledged world's number one sculptor dared to "emancipate" sculpture from the traditional, the natural, into the "impressionistic"—the totally abstract, omitting, or weirdly exaggerating details.

Part of education often neglected is a cultured environment. This is a spectacular view of Memorial Hall and the colorful grounds of Ambassador College, St. Albans, Herts., England.

This type of perversion wears the mask of RESPECTABILITY, and even of INTELLECTUALITY. It has won general public acceptance. And public acceptance is regarded, falsely, as the Great Judge of what is right or wrong! It is, indeed, another god before the Living Creator God!

One of the world's truly great artists is Picasso. He once did paint beautiful master works of art. He is capable of it. I have quoted his published confession in The PLAIN TRUTH. In this published "confession," he admitted to giving the public what it wanted, calling himself a clown and a mountebank. Thus, he said, he became famous. He is quoted as having written: "I am only a public entertainer who has understood his time."

The public taste has degenerated. And the idea is to distort, to confuse, to frustrate, to palm off perversion as an advancement, and to win public acceptance.

This trend has invaded music. It departs from harmony, and jangles the nerves with raucous discord—in a spirit and mood of dissension, strife, rebellion. It contains no normal or natural rhythm, and there is no melody. There is no real tune. Yet this irritating discordant jangle is being accepted as something artistic and intellectual!

Leading educators admit today that they are shackled by tradition—often find themselves powerless to introduce needed changes in the educational system. Here black-gowned don strolls across lawn in traditional college setting.

The perversion trend has even gotten a foot in the doorway of literature. One exponent is James Joyce. An editor's preface regarding his book, Finnegan's Wake, explains: "Its texture is so close, its structure so organic, that it cannot yet be considered readable in the sense of an ordinary novel. Indeed it begins with the latter part of a sentence, the beginning of which is found in the last page. This circular construction . . . invites us to plunge in almost anywhere."

Shackled by Tradition

Modern Education is doubly guilty—sins of omission and of commission.

Said the lead article in Harper's magazine for March, 1966:

"Our present system of graduate education is so much the creature of vested interests and dead tradition, contains so much sheer automatism, snobbery, and prejudice, and so little pertinence to the real needs of men, that any conceivably effective antidote would be too radical to be tolerated by its custodians. . . ."

The other day I was handed a small publication of the alumni association of a certain college. I was instantly attracted to the caption of its front page article: "The PURPOSE OF LIFE."

Could some other educational institution be teaching the true PURPOSE of life? I should be happy if it were true. But perhaps that would be too good to be true.

I should like to give you a few quotes from this article, which was actually a speech made before the association:

"A friend of mine, . . . who was a Rhodes Scholar, said . . . 'Possibly the purpose of life on earth is to help human minds and souls, by discovery and challenge, towards spiritual growth and understanding of the natural universe.' I agree with this but find that in my own discussions on this subject with the younger generation, it is necessary to start from a different base. . . . I bring the discussion around, instead, to the wonders of nature all around us and to the evolutionary process on which we have indisputable evidence; . . . the basic and fundamental purpose in life is first to survive, and second to procreate. . . . I think that it is at this point that we must switch our thinking to the evolutionary process and we must glean from it that there is a further purpose, and that is to more thoroughly develop the species. . . . there is still the obligation to advance mankind and thereby to further the process of evolution. . . . To summarize, I think that the basic and primitive purpose in life is to survive and to procreate. I think that the further purpose is to achieve and accomplish and thereby to further develop the species and that we each have our little role to play in all of these regards."

Did you notice the phrases: "Possibly the purpose is—" and "I agree with this BUT..." and "I think..." and "I think..." and "I think." And he THINKS "we have indisputable evidence" of the evolutionary theory. His thinking is erroneous. There is indisputable PROOF evolution is FALSE!

Modern Education cannot teach WHAT man is, or WHY he is, because it is in ignorance of this basic knowledge.

New-Day Education

But this decadent yet highly organized monumental system is soon to topple. It will be replaced by the Educational System of The WORLD TOMOR-

ROW. It will teach the basic, most necessary knowledge: WHAT man is, WHY he is, WHITHER he is going, WHAT is his transcendent potential, WHAT are the TRUE values, what is THE WAY to peace, happiness, and abundant well-being.

It will correct the distortions of history books, and reveal to the world the true history of events, and of man's experiences on earth, accurately, precisely as they happened. It will completely reverse the psychologists approach to the study of the human mind. It will reveal the surprising facts of what the human mind really is—of how it is influenced and swayed by human nature—and it will lay bare the TRUTH about human nature.

It will correct the absurdities of the speculative conclusions in today's textbooks on geology and biology. The new texts on Astronomy, in The WORLD TOMORROW, will correct glaring errors not only, but also reveal astounding new facts of which today's astronomers are ignorant.

This enlightened new-day system of complete and TRUE education already has been introduced—on the three campuses of Ambassador College—California, Texas, England. It is the beginning. It is pioneering the way.

Inside Ambassador College

While this world's decadent education gropes in the dark, seeking hopelessly for the knowledge that can come only by the revelation it rejects, Ambassador College accepts uncontrovertible and scientific PROOF of the living Creator God, and of the authenticity of

New-day Education is already here on the Ambassador College campuses. Ambassador College girls study in cultural environment conducive to better academic accomplishments.

His inspired revelation to mankind—as the basic FOUNDATION of all knowledge—and as the approach to the acquisition of humanly discoverable knowledge.

While the decadent and faulty educational system of a blinded and deceived world assumes a dignified facade, a proud look, and disdainfully rejects the only true basic SOURCE of right knowledge, Ambassador College happily and joyfully reaps the blessings and benefits of correcting the CAUSE and enjoying the EFFECT. While in its foolish vanity, an erroneous educational system professes itself to be wise, not knowing it has become foolish—embracing fables in the guise of truth, ridiculing right causes and ways in its cynical sophistication, Ambassador College leads the way toward the new-day Education, which, coupled with divine RULE and POWER, will set this world aright—will banish ignorance, poverty, sickness, disease, filth and squalor. It will EMANICIPATE this dark world from its boredom, its unhappiness, its frustration.

Ambassador scholars, starting from the true FOUNDATION, building on it with the right approach, already are engaged in correcting deliberately distorted history, reversing warped psychology, disseminating the true knowledge of WHAT man is, WHY he is, WHERE he is going, and THE WAY to the benefits we all desire. It is, of course, only a beginning. But already it is paying off in the HAPPY, FRUITFUL lives of hundreds of fine young people who know THE WAY which will cause the desired RESULTS.

Yes, all of this—and more! Ambassador students learn HOW to live—THE WAY to happiness—but in this most important living, the “how to EARN a living” is not neglected. More than 99 percent of Ambassador graduates are living SUCCESSFUL lives financially—as well as socially, morally, spiritually. When they find THE WAY to enjoy a

THE BIBLE ANSWERS

Short Questions

FROM OUR READERS

HERE are the Bible answers to questions which can be answered briefly in a short space. Send in your questions. While we cannot promise that all questions will find space for answer in this department, we shall try to answer all that are vital and in the general interest of our readers.

If God took one of Adam's ribs in order to create Eve, why don't we find men today with one less rib? Doesn't this prove the Bible unscientific?

Disprove the Bible? Not at all!
Adam was created with the same number of ribs all normal human beings have. Suppose Adam were alive today and, in an operation, had one rib removed. Do you suppose that therefore all children born to him after the operation would therefore have one less rib? Of course not.

The Bible nowhere says Adam's children would be born with one less rib.

It says the very opposite. The Bible often talks about circumcision—the removal of a small portion of skin from the male baby. To this day Jews have practiced circumcision. And to this day male Jewish babies are born uncircumcised! In other words, a circumcised male did not pass on to his offspring this acquired characteristic.

Acquired characteristics—Adam's loss of a rib for example—are not passed on from parent to offspring. A man who loses an arm in an automobile accident will not have children lacking one arm! Adam's loss of a rib in order that God could create Eve does not mean that all of Adam's male children were born with one less rib than their sisters. Yet this sort of hazy, medieval thinking is what many have blindly accepted.

In the 1500's, church leaders were shocked! Andreas Vesalius, Doctor of Anatomy, discovered that both men and women had the same number of ribs! It had long been assumed that because God had taken one of Adam's ribs (Gen. 2:21), that all males—Adam's children—had one less rib than women. Vesalius was called into account for his amazing discovery. The religious leaders of his day believed him to be contradicting the Bible.

If those church leaders had read the Bible, they would have known his findings were correct. Vesalius had merely discovered one of God's natural laws. Each species is designed by God to pass on to its offspring the characteristics God decreed for it at Creation. Each must reproduce "after its kind" (Gen. 1:25).

This is a genetic law from creation. Operations and accidents do not change the genetics—the inheritance characteristics—of an individual.

It was God who set in motion a law that characteristics acquired through accidental injuries are not inherited. Can you imagine what the world would be like if these acquired or new characteristics of the parent human or animal could be genetically passed on to its offspring? What would today's world be like after almost 6000 years of crippling wars and violence? It would be a world of halt, maimed and blind!

CHAPTER NINETY-THREE

DAVID—AN OUTCAST!

DAVID had come to the Philistine city of Gath to escape being killed by Saul's soldiers. He hoped the Philistine king would befriend him. Because he carried Goliath's sword, he was able to gain an audience with Achish, the ruler. Achish intended to treat him civilly, but his manner was a bit gruff. Believing that Achish was about to order his death, David sought a quick way to save himself. He began to act insanely. (I Samuel 21:10-13.)

Achish and the members of his court stared. Then the king settled back in his chair as his mouth tightened and his brows furrowed in irritation.

"Whoever this man is, get him out of here!" he commanded, vigorously waving both arms. "I want an explanation from the ones who brought him here! Why does anyone assume that I need maniacs to entertain me?"

Guards rushed at David to seize him and carry him from the room.

From Palace to Cave!

"Take him outside the gates and see that he doesn't get back through them!" Achish called to the departing guards. "I'll not provide food and shelter for a madman!" (I Samuel 21:14-15.)

While he was being dragged through the streets David continued to pretend that he was crazy by struggling madly and muttering senseless phrases. As he was taken outside the walls he snatched up a sharp stone and made a long scratch on the planks of the gate.

Disgusted with his actions, the guards yanked David off his feet, tossed him into a nearby clump of short bushes and retraced their steps, banging the massive gates shut behind them.

As soon as he was alone, David scrambled out of the bushes and trudged off to where his men were faithfully waiting. Not wanting to add to his embarrassment, they said nothing as he walked up to them.

"Obviously I was wrong to think that I could stay in Gath," David said to them. "But who can say for certain that God had no part in this? Possibly he directed us here so that we would escape being discovered in some other place."

"If we must return to Canaan, I have a suggestion, sir," one of the men spoke up. "There are many pits and caves in the limestone area a few miles east of here across the plain at the base of the mountains. If we could reach one of the more obscure caves, we might be able to hide there for a long time."

David welcomed this idea. At the risk of being seen as they crossed the broad plain, they hurried to the nearby Judean mountains, where they found a good-sized cave, at Adullam, on a steep western slope close to a spring. It was a hideout that afforded them a good view of the surrounding territory, though it couldn't be seen very well from a distance.

The Oppressed Look to David

In the next few days it became increasingly difficult to obtain food. Deer were scarce in that area. And David wasn't in the habit of eating squirrels or rabbits because he knew that God had told the ancient Israelites that people shouldn't eat rodents. (Leviticus 11.) A few clean birds and wild goats downed by arrows were about all the men had to eat. Although he didn't want even his family to know where he was, David finally, in desperation, chose one of his men to go to Bethlehem to obtain food from Jesse, his father.

About three days later one of David's group excitedly reported that a party was approaching from the north. David ordered his men to spread out and hide in various spots so that they couldn't be surrounded in the event the approaching figures turned out to be one of Saul's searching parties.

Suddenly David realized that the oncoming group included his father, mother, his brothers' and sisters' families and the man he had sent after food! He leaped out of his place of concealment and ran down the slope to happily embrace them. (I Samuel 22:1.)

"Why are you here?" he anxiously asked.

"Saul has been threatening your family and friends," explained the man who had gone after food. "They insisted that I tell them your whereabouts so that they could join you to escape the death that Saul promised them soon unless they should tell where you are. Saul thinks they have been hiding you, and his men have searched their homes many times."

Realizing that the approaching party could be a band of Saul's men, David and his companions placed themselves in readiness to ambush them.

Several persons had come besides David's family, but each one brought his share of food, clothing and practical utensils. And most had managed to bring a few animals. Working together, the little band of people soon turned the cave and some nearby smaller caverns into a fairly livable area.

David hoped that his family hadn't been followed, but later that day several men were seen approaching from the north. Everyone went into hiding, but the oncoming figures had already seen people near the cave, and boldly kept drawing nearer. At a signal from David, his men rushed out and closed in on the newcomers, who made no move to resist.

"We're friends!" one of them declared. "We're not Saul's soldiers or spies, but oppressed people like yourselves. We followed David's family here at a distance because we guessed that they would be going to join him. We have come along to help make up an army for David! We are helpless without his leadership.

These well-equipped soldiers were obviously sincere. David recognized at least one of them as formerly being among his troops. After questioning them, he was satisfied that it was safe to welcome them to camp in nearby caves. Obviously, word of David's whereabouts had leaked out.

This was only the beginning of visitors. In the next few days all kinds of people arrived, though it was a mystery how they all learned where David was hiding. Some came because they felt that David should replace Saul as the leader of Israel. Some were fleeing from oppressive creditors. Others were seeking refuge from the injustice of Saul's law. Discontent, prompted by many causes, was driving hundreds of men to join David because he was considered an outcast and an underdog of great ability whom they wanted as a leader. (I Samuel 22:2.)

"This can't go on," David told his family and his trusted men. "It's a miracle that Saul hasn't been here with an army before this. We must pack up and move out of here as soon as possible. We will take as many as possible of the people with us, even though a few of them are thieves and murderers and want to use me and my trained men for protection. I'll pick about four hundred men who are of good character, strongest and best trained. Then we'll leave."

One day soon afterward David and his four hundred chosen men, along with their families, quickly packed and moved off to the southeast. The first day's hike into and over the mountains was so difficult that most of the unwelcome and less ambitious dropped out. David's aging parents had the advantage of riding on donkeys. To avoid being trapped by Saul's army, David sent scouts and runners in all directions, to warn him of approaching danger.

Refuge Among the Gentiles

Next night the band hid in a deep ravine and moved on again when daylight arrived. After a few more periods of resting and hiding, the marchers rounded the southern end of the Dead Sea and arrived at a range of low mountains fringing the southeast coast of the Dead Sea. Moving to the top of the range, they encamped at an ancient stronghold called Mizpeh. This spot was so difficult to reach that it was about the safest place they could go to near Canaan.

Leaving most of his men and their families at this hideout, David traveled with his family and a few soldiers a few miles further eastward to the capital of the nation of Moab, where he asked for an audience with the king. (I Samuel 22:3.) The king was puzzled as to why a prominent Israelite leader should be coming to visit him. He couldn't help recalling that bit of his nation's history about 280 years previously when another leading Israelite had come to bring gifts to Eglon, who had been the Moabite ruler and Israel's oppressor at that time. Ehud, the visiting Israelite judge, had planted a dagger deep in Eglon's belly. (Judges 3:12-26.)

Leaving most of his men at a lofty and ancient stronghold overlooking the southern end of the Dead Sea, David and some of his officers set off with his parents for the capital city of Moab.

Nevertheless, the king of Moab graciously welcomed David. He was aware that the young Israelite had earned the reputation of being an honest and dependable man as well as a valiant one.

"I am aware that you consider it strange that I should seek a favor from the leader of a nation that has long been an enemy of Israel," David addressed the Moabite king. "Possibly you know, through your private sources of information, that I'm trying to escape being killed by Saul's men. Even my father and mother have been threatened with death, but they escaped and are here with me now. They are very old and aren't safe anywhere in Canaan, so I've brought them here to ask you to give them refuge till I see how God will settle this matter between Saul and me." (I Samuel 22:4.)

"Ruth, who long ago married your great grandfather Boaz, was also an ancestor or mine," the Moabite king finally spoke after an interval of thoughtful staring at David. "You and I are related, and I am not exactly displeased with that relationship. Bring your parents to me, and I shall see that they are well cared for."

After making certain that his mother and father were comfortably housed, and after expressing his thanks to the king of Moab, David hastily returned to the four hundred men he had left at the hideout. There he stayed for a time, probably for several weeks or months. There were upland meadows to feed their small flocks and herds. Also, clean game was temporarily plentiful in this high ridge country to help keep everyone in good health.

But it wasn't God's will that David should indefinitely remain hidden. Otherwise, Saul might have continued on and on as Israel's leader, and the people would be inclined to think of David as one who had given up because of fear or guilt.

One day it was made known to him, through the prophet Gad, who was close to God, that God didn't want him to stay away any longer, and that he should return to the territory of Judah and camp in a forested region of Hareth a few miles southwest of Hebron. David obediently, but secretly, returned with his four hundred men to the designated place in his homeland. (I Samuel 22:5.)

Ruled by Emotions

By this time Saul was in a growing state of irritation because of David's disappearance. He was hopeful that David was dead, but he knew that he couldn't rest until proof was brought to him. He offered generous rewards for such proof, but all he received were increasing rumors that David was still alive. However, no one could or would say where he was. This was maddening to Saul, who realized more and more that he was contending with an element of people who were in sympathy with David.

Shortly after David's return to the territory of Judah, a report came to Saul that David was hiding in a wooded area between Jerusalem and the Philistine city of Gath. Saul knew that this might be nothing more than false information meant to send him off in the wrong direction. But he was so excited that he ordered a number of officers and aides to assemble before him in a field near Ramah. Here Saul and a detachment of soldiers were camped, ready to go after David as soon as they learned his whereabouts. There Saul reprimanded his men for a supposed lack of loyalty to him.

"Listen, you men of Benjamin!" Saul angrily shouted from within the shade of a tree. "Have any of you ever heard of a thing known as devotion? If you have, probably you're saving it for David. Do you think David will present you with the choice fields, orchards and vineyards of this country, besides putting each one of you in command of hundreds or even thousands of men as I have done! Is there a one among you who has harbored some deep concern for me, or have you all schemed with my son, Jonathan, to lead me into trouble with my enemy, David?" (I Samuel 22:6-8.)

Saul's men stood around in embarrassed silence, realizing that their leader was in one of his reasonless moods, and that his emotional charges were generally groundless. Among those present was Doeg, Saul's chief herdsman, an Edomite, a descendant of Jacob's twin brother, Esau. (Genesis 25:19-26; Genesis 36:1, 8.) Doeg the Edomite saw an opportunity to please his leader, though at the same time he was taking a great risk in offering delayed information.

"I would have reported this sooner to you, sir," Doeg said after stepping before Saul, "but I was never quite sure that I could believe my own eyes. Weeks ago, when I was in the tabernacle at Nob, I saw the priest, Ahimelech, giving bread to a man who could have been none other than David. Later, I saw the priest give him the sword of Goliath." (I Samuel 22:9-10.)

"You tell me now!" muttered Saul heatedly.

For a few moments Doeg felt that all of Saul's wrath would be directed to him. Then the Israelite leader turned away from him and loudly ordered soldiers to hurry to Nob and bring Ahimelech and all his family of priests to Gibeah. Not many hours later these people were herded into Saul's presence.

"Why have you plotted against me by giving food and a weapon to David, my enemy?" Saul demanded of Ahimelech.

Crime of Saul and Doeg

"I wasn't aware that David was your enemy," Ahimelech answered. "I've always thought of him as obedient, loyal and honorable. I trust that you don't feel that I or anyone else with me is responsible for any trouble you are having with David."

"You and David have planned to put me off the throne of Israel!" Saul loudly accused Ahimelech the priest. "That is treason, and you'll die for it!"

"Don't try to squirm out of this!" Saul growled at the priest. "I know that you plotted with David, as have many others, to dethrone me! You are guilty of treason, and the penalty for treason is death!"

Before the astonished priest could say another word in his defense, Saul ordered nearby infantrymen to surround Ahimelech and all those who had been brought with him.

"Kill every one of them here and now!" Saul commanded.

Some of the soldiers reluctantly moved up at the first part of the command, but the order to kill the priests was too much for them. They feared their leader, but they feared God more. Saul's face grew livid as he glowered at his soldiers. It was all he could do to conquer a savage urge to rush in among them with the spear he clutched. (I Samuel 22:11-17.)

As Saul gazed angrily about, he realized that his chief herdsman, Doeg, was among the onlookers who had come to Gibeah. With Doeg were several of his underlings, all armed.

"Doeg!" Saul thundered. "If you want to live to hold your position, step up here with your men and slaughter everyone who has been brought from Nob!"

Doeg instantly reasoned that if he failed to obey, Saul would do away with him. Besides, he wasn't an Israelite, and the priests didn't mean too much to him. He jerked his sword out of its scabbard, nodded to his men and all of them rushed to slash down Ahimelech and all those who had accompanied him. Saul's men looked on in dismay while the Edomites accomplished their grisly task, but none of them had the courage to interfere.

Little did Saul and Doeg realize that their hideous crime was the fulfillment of prophecy. God had warned Eli the priest that his family, even in succeeding generations, would suffer greatly for his having defiled the priesthood. (I Samuel 2:12-17; I Samuel 2:22-36.)

Later, as Saul shamelessly surveyed eighty-five dead priests and the dead of most of Ahimelech's family, another barbarous thought entered his mind. (I Samuel 22:18.)

"You have done well," he told Doeg, "but this isn't the end of the matter. I want to show what will happen even to the cities, towns and villages where Israelites dwell who are disloyal to me. Go up to Nob with your men and kill every person you find there, no matter how young or how old! Besides, I want you to destroy all livestock! Leave nothing alive!"

"But there are about three hundred people left in that town, sir," Doeg pointed out. "Most of them would escape before my few men could reach them."

"Then pick up more men on the way!" Saul commanded. "I'll supply you with extra weapons, and you do the rest! I'll make it worth your trouble."

Doeg and his men quietly crept up on the unprotected town of Nob, the habitation of priests of Israel.

That night Doeg, his men and some lawless, money-baited recruits crept silently into the unwallled town of Nob.

Great, of Charles V, of Napoleon. De Gaulle's recent trip to Moscow has revealed how insignificant France is by herself. It has revealed to Europeans the need of a strong, new Europe. It has given the Vatican the opportunity to step quietly into the realm of national diplomacy and highlight the path to a final European union which will bring about the closing events of 6,000 years of human civilization!

employment, or alleged social injustices."

Next headline: "RAPE, ASSAULT, MURDER CASES ON SHARP RISE. CRIME WAVE NOW SPREADS TO RURAL AREAS. The first quarter of 1966, rape rose

14 percent over the same period last year, reported J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the F.B.I.

Now come headlines showing how morals are fast sinking all the way down into the cesspool. It's nauseating, but our readers need to know which way humanity is drifting—and how fast!

HEADLINE: "MASTURBATION DESCRIBED AS AN 'ESSENTIAL' PROCESS."

The dispatch comes from Toronto, in Canada. A woman doctor—yes, believe it or not—a WOMAN DOCTOR told the second North American Conference on the Church and Family Life, "Masturbation may be one of the essential processes of growing up." Also, this doctor said, a homosexual relationship, for many persons, may be more creative and fulfilling than marriage. Attending this international Conference were 625 clergymen, theologians, psychiatrists, sociologists and laymen—under auspices of the Canadian Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States.

HEADLINE: "SEXUAL FREEDOM CITED AS BASIS FOR TRUE LOVE." This is a second dispatch from the same Conference. Another woman doctor—a psychologist and churchwoman, told the Conference: "Increased sexual freedom may lead to deeper love within marriage." Further: "Today's youth, aided by the pill and antibiotics so that the old fears of pregnancy and venereal disease are gone, may at last be able to find more of the real meaning of marriage."

Perhaps some of our readers may begin to understand what I mean when I say that the colleges and universities are stuffing plastic student minds with warped psychology and perverted concepts. Today's educational system, and today's false religions are completely decadent, and are soon to be wiped off of God's earth!

Still another headline: "LET YOUNG WRITE OWN SEX RULES: THEOLOGIAN." This is a third report from this same religious (???) Conference. Says this dispatch: "A leading theologian said young people should be able to write their own rules about pre-marital sex [fornication]—and get the blessing of the Church for what they decide."

No wonder the LIVING GOD says of today's world, and of its religious leaders: "For the land is full of adulteries. . . . For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house [the churches] have I found their wickedness, saith the ETERNAL. . . . I have seen also in the prophets . . . a horrible thing; they commit adultery, and walk in lies; they strengthen also the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom"—that is, homosexuals!! "... Therefore thus saith the ETERNAL concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: . . . They say still unto them that despise me, The ETERNAL hath said, Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination [reasonings] of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you. . . . in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly." (Jeremiah 23:10-20.)

This is a prophecy for NOW!

The religious leaders say to the people: "Go ahead and BREAK God's inexorable Laws—and NO PUNISHMENT will follow." Go the way of LUST, of lies, of unfaithfulness—the way that is the CAUSE of pain and suffering and disease, and broken lives—and then we will prevent God's Laws from exacting their penalties, by using antibiotic DRUGS to prevent the penalty of disease; and "the pill," to prevent the consequence of unmarried and illegitimate pregnancy!

These people POSE as the ministers of the LIVING Jesus Christ. Then they try to show that they can mock Him with impunity!!!

On the authority of the living and soon re-appearing Jesus Christ I say that their PUNISHMENT shall now come speedily!

Same week's News Report, headline: "THE NEW BANNER—'BLACK POWER.'" In a rally at Greenwood, Mississippi, on the Meredith Memphis-to-Jackson march, the most outspoken leader, 24 years old, shouted, "Today's the 27th time I've been arrested . . . an' I ain't goin' to jail no more. . . . The only way we gonna stop them white men from whuppin' us is to take over. We been sayin' 'freedom' for six years and we ain't got nuthin.' What we gonna start sayin' now is 'black power!'"

"Black Power!" the crowd shouted. "Black Power! Black Power!"

Next headline: "WHITES MUST GO!" This was a UPI dispatch from Belzoni, Mississippi: "More than 2,000 Negroes, most of them teen-agers, marched into this little Delta town Sunday chanting 'white folks must go.'

"'We're gonna get some white blood.' a militant Negro told them."

Next headline: "NEGRO AUTHOR DEBUNKS NONVIOLENCE, CALLS FOR A FIGHT NOW." The story was taken from the "Speaking Out" column in the July 2nd Saturday Evening Post. It showed that extremist Negro leaders are trying to stir up violence by saying the Negro is "spoiling for a fight in affirmation of his selfhood."

An article in the July 16 Post is captioned: "THE UGLY MOOD OF WATTS." It shows that extremist militant Negro leaders are attempting to gain power by threatening whites with violence. The article shows that the attitude of many in Watts in regard to last year's riot is one of PRIDE. Many are being made to feel, listening to and reading the propaganda of militant self-appointed leaders, that rioting, and killing white people gives them a sense of POWER. "There is no sense of shame," the article reports. "No feeling that far more was lost than gained" for the cause of civil rights.

What few writers seem to realize—or else are reluctant to state—is that perhaps most of the violence is actually planned and engineered from Moscow, Russia. Communists, university-trained in propaganda, sabotage, mob psychology, and stirring up hatreds, worm their way into various NON-violent organizations, without the knowledge of the leaders of those organizations.

Extreme radicals are organizing and drilling teen-age Negroes for battle. Here in southern California, rifle, shotgun and revolver sales have mounted to an unprecedented high. Next time—which may explode any minute—perhaps before we can mail this copy of The PLAIN TRUTH to you—these radicals say the Negroes are going to start shooting down and killing every white person they can see—on the streets, even in their homes. Several years ago, I predicted that the blood is going to run like a river, before the world reaches the end of the racial hatred.

So, as I said in beginning, we have two viewpoints, from which we look at this world. The one reveals a world of mechanical and inventive and engineering progress—of glittering, dazzling gadgets, ways of pleasure. Some view that side of the picture, and believe this is a WONDERFUL and a fine world.

Then there is the other picture—the degeneration of the MAN who has developed the THINGS he has worked with.

Education has FAILED, terribly, criminally! It has failed to teach man HOW TO USE, AND PROPERLY ENJOY, these fruits of his own labor.

We need to ask, HOW can all these inventions and productions of science, technology and industry be TRULY beneficial—HOW can they indicate REAL progress and advancement? The answer is, ONLY IF man himself advances with the THINGS he produces—morally, spiritually, culturally, socially, as well as intellectually. But THAT, man has failed to do.

What, then, is the CAUSE of this world plight—of this degeneration of MAN—of this world-situation where it is now possible for MAN to blast all human life from the earth? There is a CAUSE for every EFFECT!

There is just the ONE cause of all human ills.

It may be stated in more ways than one, but it is all the SAME CAUSE.

It may be stated as HUMAN NATURE. It may be stated as THE CARNAL MIND. It may be stated as lust and greed. It may be stated as rejection of and universal transgression of GOD'S LAW. It may be stated as rebellion against GOD and HIS GOVERNMENT. It may be stated as HUMAN GOVERNMENT—OR, MAN'S INABILITY TO GOVERN HIMSELF. Actually, all these ways of stating the CAUSE of every human wail of woe, all human suffering, all unhappiness, all poverty and degeneration—all these ways of stating the CAUSE amount to one and the same thing.

Human nature is vanity plus lust of the flesh. Human nature is carnal mindedness. The carnal mind is SELF-centered—it is vanity—it is the attitude of rebellion against any authority over it, hostility toward God, jealousy, envy, resentment, hatred toward fellow man. It seeks to please self. It seeks pleasures, comforts, enjoyments for self.

The Eternal God is the Creator. He thought out, designed, brought into being, all that is. He created man, but for His PURPOSE, endowed man with an independent MIND, and made him a free moral agent. God forces man to CHOOSE.

God has set before man HIS LAWS, by which He governs. His Law is LOVE—and love is out-going concern, not in-flowing vanity and lust. God created in man a MIND such as no other physical creature possesses—a mind swayed by the pull of human nature, YET a mind capable of recognizing and resisting this pull—a mind capable of comprehending and sitting as arbiter over it—a mind with power of WILL to enforce either self-discipline in obedience to God's Way, or stubbornness in rebelling against it—whichever way the mind decides. The MIND must make the decision.

Thus God allows man to either be ruled by God and His Laws—His Government—or to rebel, and try to govern himself.

Either WAY man chooses is a CAUSE of a definite RESULT.

God's LAW is simply THE WAY to peace, happiness, well-being in abundance—and eternal life.

Rejection of THAT WAY is, simply, THE WAY to strife, violence, war, unhappiness, ignorance, poverty, pain, suffering, fears and worries, frustration—and finally, eternal DEATH!

God's Law is THE WAY to everything everyone wants. Violation of it carries a PENALTY.

Man has chosen to try to govern himself. He has chosen THE WAY which is the CAUSE of all his ills, his troubles, his suffering. Then what does man DO? He ignores the CAUSE of all his troubles. He treats with the EFFECT—he tries to outwit God by nullifying, removing, alleviating THE PENALTIES he is suffering.

This is inexcusable IGNORANCE. Yet this is the WAY of Science, of Education, of Government. Man has built up a complex civilization. The leaders put their minds to great activity, treating the ill EFFECTS. They follow this way of IGNORANCE, yet they deceive themselves and the world by labeling it KNOWLEDGE, RATIONALISM, INTELLECTUALITY, EDUCATION, SCIENCE.

So man long ago CHOSE to set up his own government. Man has tried to rule man—to rule his fellows. Look at all the GOVERNMENTS in the world today—all those that have come and gone—and the WARS fought over them!

WHY all this?

WHY all the troubles in the world?

It may be easy to say: "Human Nature."

But WHY? How has human nature worked to bring such a result? Well, perhaps a motion picture of several years ago might illustrate how it has worked. It was a Charlie Chaplin picture. He acted the part of Adolf Hitler. Jack Oakie acted the part of Mussolini. One of them was paying a "State Visit" to the other. He had a private barber shop with two chairs. The two Dictators went together to the barber shop for haircuts. Before the barber arrived, Mussolini reached down the side, grasped the lever, jacked it up a notch, elevating himself an inch or two above Hitler. Immediately Hitler elevated his seat two notches, lifting himself one or two inches above Mussolini. Then Mussolini jacked his seat up a couple additional notches—and so on and on, until they both crashed into the ceiling—each trying to elevate himself above the other. It made human nature appear not only funny, but foolish. Viewers rolled with laughter, but probably nobody seeing it repented of the foolishness of his own human nature.

Do you suppose that the heads of Governments in this world are more interested in the welfare of their peoples than in their own personal vanity and lust for power? You are a little naïve if you do.

What is the CURE, then, of all the world's ills?

To CHANGE human nature!

But that, MAN is unwilling, of himself, to do—and also UNABLE!

But there IS the living Almighty GOD who is, very soon now, GOING to intervene in world affairs directly. He is going to send the living Jesus Christ once again to earth! This time Christ is coming in all the POWER and GLORY and SPLENDOR of the Creator-Ruler, GOD! He is coming to establish His Government over all nations.

Men won't welcome it. The nations will be angry. They will fight! That will be nothing new. Men have been fighting their Maker since Adam!

But Jesus Christ is coming in full control of ALL THE POWER—ALL THE FORCE that exists. He is going to use divine POWER to FORCE a rebellious mankind to have PEACE—to be HAPPY—to experience WELL-BEING, with universal prosperity. What a paradox! Men are going to be FORCED, against their wills, to have and enjoy everything THEY WANT!

Of course, for those who have the good sense to be willing to confess the foolishness of their own carnal minds—to become really disgusted with their own human natures—to recognize how evil, how wrong, how sinful, their own lives have been—and to become so genuinely sorry that they really REPENT, and SURRENDER to God and HIS WAYS, and seek to come to Him through Jesus Christ—well, God will grant them repentance, give them personal contact with Him, and put within them HIS HOLY SPIRIT. And that means that they become partakers of His very DIVINE NATURE (II Peter 1:4).

That won't, during this life, remove the human nature—but God will give power, to those who want and seek it, to overrule the carnal mind, and BE LED BY His Holy Spirit. Of course it means traveling henceforth in the very OPPOSITE direction from the past.

It's A WAY that makes sense. I became sick and disgusted with THE WAY I had been traveling—as well as with my own rotten self—nearly 40 years ago. Otherwise you wouldn't be reading these words, now. But it has "paid off," beyond words to describe—and perhaps the happiest part of it all is that God allows me the privilege of SHARING the blessed RESULTS of this right CAUSE with so many thousand others!

GENESIS VS. GEOLOGY

"God Is Dead," say theologians. "The Bible Is Myth," claim educators. But has anyone really proved the claims? Why haven't scientists compared the record of Genesis with the facts of geology?

by Herman L. Hoeh

NEVER has there been an age like this one. An avalanche of scientific information is pouring down upon specialist and layman alike.

No one is able to keep up with the torrent of new knowledge.

But is man the wiser for all this new knowledge?

Are the latest conclusions of geology, of archaeology, or history any nearer the truth? Or are we being crushed by the sheer weight of new ignorance—new superstitions, this time garbed in the respectable clothes of Scientific Knowledge?

Scientific Confusion

It would seem this ought to be the wisest, most knowledgeable generation that has ever lived. But it is not!

And there is a reason.

Never in the history of the world have so many been speculating so much. Speculation, hypothesizing, intellectual guessing have become the lifeblood of the sciences—especially the social sciences. The result is an age typified by a chaos of ideas.

Is it any wonder that the scholarly world is in confusion? That the genuine history of man has been rejected and forgotten? That Scripture is labeled "unscientific" and "myth"?

Professor Mendenhall, of the University of Michigan, labels the present confused state of human knowledge thus: it "may with perhaps less courtesy but more accuracy be called chaos" (The Bible and the Ancient Near East, article "Biblical History in Transition").

Why Hypotheses?

Why haven't men been willing to face facts, and forget hypothesizing? The answer is simple. Facts do not automatically organize themselves into clear and unmistakable answers. There is always the need of some kind of yardstick, some standard, to guide man in organizing the myriads of facts lying mutely before him. A geological stratum by itself does not answer when or why. A potsherd by itself does not reveal who or when. Even a written record by itself often fails to convey motive, proof of accuracy, or history of transmission.

Scholars and scientists must of necessity resort to some external framework or yardstick by which the recovered facts may be judged. Only two choices are available—hypothesis or Divine Revelation.

The educated world has chosen the former. It has, without proof, rejected the latter. Hypotheses appeal to human vanity, to intellectual curiosity, to the desire to hear of something new. Divine Revelation requires acknowledgement of a Higher Power, the subjection of human reason to the revealed Mind of the Creator. But human reason revels in its own superiority. By nature it opposes and exalts itself against Higher Authority.

No wonder educators take for granted that the facts of geology, of archaeology, or human history contradict the Bible.

Of course no one, caught up in the vicious cycle of intellectual guessing, finds it easy to divorce facts from hypotheses. But once one is willing to do that, the gnawing questions of science and history find answers.

Not until human beings are willing to acknowledge God, to acknowledge His Authority, His Revelation, will they ever come to a satisfactory—and satisfying—explanation of Man and the Universe. Not until human reason is conquered will the scholarly world enjoy the privilege of understanding the meaning of geology, of archaeology, of history and the Bible.

Uncovering the Facts

Scientific and historical journals are filled with "learned" conflicts and controversies. These conflicts are not due to a lack of factual material. There are often "too many" facts.

Controversies in philosophy, in science, in education are the direct result of hypothesizing. Theories and hypotheses by their very nature breed controversy. What is needed is a true view of the factual material already available. Present material is more than sufficient to solve every one of the primary questions regarding Man, his origin in time, and the record of his experiences.

Why don't today's educators know the answers to these problems? Because they have discarded the KEY that would unlock the answers. That KEY is God's revelation of essential knowledge for man—the Bible. But men don't want God telling them anything authoritatively. They therefore refuse even to test whether the Bible is authoritative.

It's time we examined the facts of science. Examined, in brief outline, the beginnings of human society—the relationship of geology and archaeology to human history and the Bible. It is possible, if we divorce theory from the facts, to discover the answers to every one of the following basic questions:

Do the facts of geology confirm the Bible? Was the earth inhabited before the creation of man—before creation week recorded in Genesis 1?

Where, in geologic strata, does Creation Week of Genesis 1 occur? Is the geographical description of the Garden of Eden and of the great river that went out of it toward the east (Gen. 2:10) confirmed by geology?

What happened to the earth as a result of the sin of Cain?

Why did his descendants wander over the earth, hunting instead of farming?

What is the relationship between pre-Flood Man and fossil Man? What does archaeology reveal about the first sixteen centuries of human existence? Where do the so-called "Ice Ages" fit in Bible history? Why did so many forms of animal and human life disappear at the close of the geologic period labeled "Pleistocene" by scientists?

Is this the Biblical Flood?

Every one of these questions has an answer. The answers are so plain even a child can understand them—if unprejudiced. The factual material has already been recorded for us by generations of historians, scientists and archaeologists. Yet they don't understand what they have discovered. They view everything from the evolutionary standpoint. It has simply never occurred to them that what they uncovered confirmed the Bible, and not evolution!

How Geologists Think

Most people do not know how a geologist reaches his conclusions. A geologist, of course, is one who makes a study of earth history. He investigates the rock structure of the surface of the earth. Let's accompany a geologist on one of his field trips.

A geologist working in the field discovers strata of sandstone, or limestone, or silt. Perhaps in them are fossils. He wants to know when the strata were deposited. How does he decide? The answer is: HE DOESN'T!

Being a very careful man—a scientific man—he will go to a paleontologist for the answer. And who is a paleontologist? He is a scientist who makes a special study of fossils. It is his function to explain to the geologist the apparent age of the fossils.

And how does the paleontologist know the apparent age of the fossils? From geology? No! How can he learn it from geology when even the geologist does not know the age of fossil strata until he goes to the paleontologist who studies the fossils!! Then how does the paleontologist discover how old fossils are?

Simple! He turns to the evolution theory!

Life, the paleontologist tells the geologist, developed from the very simplest cell into the varied complex creatures that inhabit the earth today. "But what is the age of the fossils?" asks the geologist.

"Let me explain that," replies the paleontologist. "Evolution is a very slow process. It may take millions of years for one species of life to slowly develop into another totally different species. The age of your strata are determined by how long we think it took that particular species of fossils to develop. Of course, we paleontologists don't all agree on these details. You might get a different answer from another paleontologist! After all, even though we all believe evolution is a fact, we do not know exactly how it occurs—or even the exact order in which various species of life evolved."

And that, in simple language, is what happens!

The age of the fossils is guessed at by the paleontologist. The source of his knowledge (or misknowledge) is not geology, but the evolution theory. He takes it for granted. He assumes the theory is a fact—or reasons as if it were a fact. The geologist then deduces the age of the strata from the assumed age of the fossils.

Discarding the Facts

All too often the geologist discovers that, according to the assumed age of the fossils, "younger strata" are below "older strata"—in the wrong order—reversed! "Oh, that's all right," the paleontologist will conclude. "Just consider that the strata were laid in the right order and that later a fracture in the earth's crust occurred which placed them in the wrong order."

"But there was no fracture or fault line in the deposits. The strata were laid down exactly as I found them."

"Don't let that concern you," the paleontologist might tell the geologist. "You are at liberty to insert fracture or fault lines where there were none, and to remove them where you plainly saw them. After all, the evolution theory explains what happened even if you did not find the evidence!"

That is THE WAY evolutionary science is practiced.

This illustration was in fact presented in a public lecture in one of the most famous institutions of higher learning in Southern California.

The geologist giving the lecture added this word of advice: "It is better not to go to different paleontologists. Otherwise there will be no consistency in the dating of fossils. It is much better to consult the same paleontologist, for then, at least, one will be CONSISTENT IN HIS ERROR!"

It is this kind of foolish scientific thinking—if it can be called thinking—that masquerades as intellectual. This is the kind of thinking that has been used to ridicule and reject the authority of Scripture.

This is the trunk of the evolutionary tree. Once it is chopped down all the twiggly side arguments fall with it!

Evolution is based on deceptive, circular reasoning. It is an unproved and unprovable hypothesis. It is made to seem rational by a fantastic use of hundreds of millions—even billions—of years. But no evolving fossil—bridging the gaps from one Genesis kind to another—has ever been found. No half-evolved living species, has ever been seen by man. God-ordained varieties of each kind—yes! But no evolution from one Genesis kind to another!

It is time we opened our eyes to the falsehoods in modern education.

Naturally, geologists have found many important and true facts. Once we divorce the facts from the theories and hypotheses, true earth history becomes plain. Now take a look at the facts as they are found. See how they fit the Bible account.

The Facts of Geology

First, look at the recent astounding discoveries of geology. They are of such magnitude as to revolutionize the whole field of scientific studies. They tell an incredible story.

Geologists, like all scientists, are noted for the care which they take in exact observations and measurements—though in theorizing they know no bounds to their wildest speculations.

After decades of careful firsthand observation, geologists came to recognize a definite, worldwide break in the geological strata. They didn't understand its meaning. They never looked into the Bible to see if an answer were there.

The strata below the break revealed a world entirely different from the one we see around us today. Nowhere in the lower strata does one find fossil Man, or remains of warm-blooded creatures so characteristic of our world. Missing, too, are the angiosperms—plants having their seeds enclosed in an ovary.

Evolutionary geologists immediately jumped to the conclusion that this was a "proof" of evolution. They couldn't have been more mistaken.

Above the break, the strata reveal forms of life vividly described in Genesis 1. There are human remains, many varieties of mammals, birds and flowering trees. Why the sudden appearance of new kinds of life? What is the meaning of this break in the geological horizon? Is it mentioned in the Bible?

Most scientists and historians never looked to see. The theologians never stopped to investigate. But the facts are plain for all to see. There has been no past evolution of living matter.

Confirmation of Genesis One

Genesis 1 has been woefully misunderstood. "Creation Week" is not the record of the original creation of matter, but an account of re-creation!

The first chapter of Genesis contains two distinct accounts.

The first two verses are a brief account of the creation of matter and physical energy—of a beautiful earth fit for habitation—"in the beginning." The second account is about the work of re-creation following a frightful catastrophe which befell the first world. That catastrophe is briefly summarized in verse 2 of Genesis 1. These verses, according to the original inspired Hebrew text, read: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. Now the earth had become without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep."

God created the world fit for habitation. It was not created a waste. Isaiah 45:18 reveals: ". . . God himself that formed the earth . . . he created it not in vain [the original Hebrew is the same as in Genesis 1:2—meaning "not a waste"], he formed it to be inhabited."

The first or pre-Adamic creation was turned into a chaotic wreck. Virtually all life perished. (Psalm 104:28-29.) The whole face of the earth was covered with water. Who was responsible for that destruction is revealed in the article "Did God Create a Devil?" Write for it! It's free.

The Biblical record of Genesis 1:2 is confirmed by the enigmatic break which scientists have found in the geological strata. The strata below the break are the remains of the pre-Adamic world!

What International Geophysical Year Revealed

For scores of years geologists assumed the ocean floors were the quiet resting places of thousands of feet of mud and slime. Then came the shocking truth. Those thousands of feet of mud were not there. The geologists could hardly believe their eyes.

An immense catastrophe had befallen the earth.

Everywhere men sent down into the Steeply tilted sandstone ridge—typical of strata overlying the ruins of the pre-Adamic world wrecked by the sin of angels. Geologists label these strata Cretaceous. They were upheaved in the rise of the land out of the ocean waters.

oceans their coring devices they discovered the ocean depths had suffered a tremendous volcanic upheaval.

To heighten the shock of the discovery, scientists found the catastrophe had struck the ocean depths at the same moment in geological history that it had struck the land masses. On land it had been recognized as a worldwide break in the geological strata. To this upheaval geologists assign the label "Cretaceous"—meaning "chalky"—because of the nature of the chalky deposits in England where the strata were first studied.

Geologists thought they would find strata in the sea below the so-called "Cretaceous" deposits—just as they find them on the continents. They didn't. Reported Ericson and Wollin: "... no sediment older than Upper Cretaceous time has been found in the ocean basins because there is none there to find" (The Deep and the Past, p. 266).

None to find? Of course! On the ocean floors the world before man has been buried under tremendous volcanic eruptions.

The authors continue:

"The paleontological and geophysical evidence tells us in clear enough language that some sort of drastic reorganization of the floors of the oceans must have taken place toward the end of the Lower Cretaceous Period. . . . We can be sure [that is usually a sure sign that scholars, historians, and scientists are guessing] that this volcanic transformation did not take place within the span of a few years; if it had, all marine life would have come to a sudden end as a gargantuan bouillabaisse of boiled fish. To avoid catastrophe of this sort, we need only be more liberal with time; we have plenty of it at our disposal. . . .

"Whence came the energy and why should its effect have been concentrated at the beginning of the Upper Cretaceous?" (Pages 267-268.)

Read that astounding quote again!

The facts are plain! There was a singular catastrophe which virtually ended all life between what geologists call the "Lower" and "Upper Cretaceous"—that is, the dividing line between the world before Adam and the world since the creation of man.

Geologists throw around time as though it were a mere toy! By giving themselves time enough they hope to alleviate the necessity of accepting the truth of Genesis 1:2.

"Our pastor and his wife take your Bible Course and The PLAIN TRUTH. Well, he has been doing what you say so many are doing now—preaching to please man, not God. God got hold of him. He did him like He did Jacob—he would not let him sleep or eat. So yesterday he almost burned the church down with what he had to say. The pastor said, 'I have been preaching to please man, not God.' He also said, 'God has opened my eyes to the real truth.'"

This calls to mind an experience of two little boys who ran away from home, and were not found until early evening, playing—of all places—in the train yards. One boy's mother spanked him severely and told him he might have been killed—he never went back. The other boy's mother never even reproached him but said she was glad he was safe. He went back the next day and was killed."

Drought

"I have read your article, 'Drought is Here Now.' I am a Canadian grain farmer and I should know how I feel about the weather. I have been frozen out two years out of five, hailed out once, and my wheat crop has on two other times been badly reduced by wheat rust. . . . In 1961 it was very dry. . . . I had a fair crop that year. However, if it had repeated that performance in 1962, the following year Canada would have grown enough to feed her own people and that would have been all. From then on they would have had to turn to their grain reserves. Three years later we would have been out of grain. Fifty percent of all farmers would have had their lands up for tax sale in the meantime. It would take very little to cause North America to be out of wheat."

PROPHECY comes alive

IN TODAY'S WORLD NEWS

FRENCH President Charles de Gaulle's recent trip to Moscow and the Vietnam struggle have been drawing the headlines. But a far more dramatic event in Europe has been overlooked.

The "cold war" between the Roman Catholic Church and Communist Yugoslavia has ended!

On June 25, Marshal Tito's Red regime re-established diplomatic relations with the Vatican. The accord, which was two years in the making, ended a bitter 14-year rift.

In Rome, the Vatican hailed the breakthrough. It is an "important point of arrival" in the Pope's new diplomatic offensive toward Communist-ruled Europe. Vatican officials declared the new pact is just the initial thrust in that direction.

Behind the Curtains of Secrecy

"Discreet negotiations" are admitted to be under way with Communist Czechoslovakia. Secret Vatican talks are planned in the near future with Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

But Church activity in parts of Eastern Europe is still heavily restricted. For months the Red regime of Poland and that country's Catholic hierarchy have been at loggerheads on several issues. On June 26, truncheon-wielding Warsaw police were called upon to suppress a riot of 1,000 marchers who yelled, "Freedom of speech" and "Catholics Unite!"

The view is gaining ground at the Vatican that it is in Moscow that the Church's future relations with the Communist world must be determined.

Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's recent visit to Pope Paul VI in Rome strengthened that conviction. Pope Paul—trained for years in the Vatican secretariat of state—believes that the Church must deal directly with the Soviets to free the Catholic countries still behind the Iron Curtain.

Now see what Bible Prophecy says.

Ten Nations to Unite!

A third power bloc is prophesied soon to arise in Europe. It will be the seventh and last resurrection of the ancient Roman Empire (Rev. 17:10-12).

Six European countries have already combined economically in the Common Market. But your Bible says ten nations—"ten kings"—must ultimately unite. It is very possible that some East European satellite nations will, as a result, be drawn into the Western orbit. Watch closely the changing political and religious scene in Europe!

German Assumes Key Post

A German panzer commander, a veteran of Hitler's conquests of Poland and France, has been named Commander in Chief of Allied Forces in Central Europe!

As of July 1, General Johann Adolf von Kielmansegg will direct half a million U. S., British and West German air and ground troops in the area covering Bavaria to northern Germany.

The key command post is the most important one ever held by a West German in the NATO alliance!

With the departure of French military forces from NATO, the position fell to the Bonn government almost by default. General von Kielmansegg was a logical choice to succeed French General Jean Crepin, under whom he had served for nearly three years.

In pursuing his vague policy of "French Glory" above all else, General de Gaulle is committing a monstrous mistake! He is unwittingly permitting the Germans to take over the very positions of power he doesn't want them to occupy!

Germany, not France, is prophesied to be the dominant nation in the coming European combine. She already has the largest military force in NATO of any European member, by far.

The free booklet, 1975 in Prophecy explains, step by step, what is going to happen—and what is occurring under cover right now—in Germany and Eastern Europe. Write for it.

Weather Takes Heavy Toll

Drought and freezes have dealt America's Midwestern breadbasket severe blows! It is estimated that the wheat crop for 1966 is going to be around 150,000,000 bushels less than expected.

This is bad enough! But the federal government has agreed to export a record 900,000,000 bushels of wheat to India and other food-short lands this year. As a result, more wheat will be consumed and exported this year than is grown, forcing a heavy drain on the shrinking surplus stockpile.

By this time next year the U. S. could have less than a half-year supply for domestic needs. A full year's supply is considered by many to be the very minimum for protection against a short crop, heavy war demands or other emergencies.

Other Crops Down

The wheat picture is not the only one that is grim.

Record exports of rice will soon reduce the U. S. stockpile of that grain to a mere five weeks' supply. Much of the rice shipments have gone to war-torn South Vietnam.

Soybean stocks, too, are very low. A meager three-week stockpile is foreseen by late summer. And this represents privately held stocks. There's not a single bushel of soybeans left in U. S. Government hands. Soybean growers have fully exercised their options to withdraw grains previously placed with the Government under loan.

Milk Situation Serious

The dairy industry, too, is heading into troubled waters.

Milk production is down 5 percent from a year ago, now stands at the lowest level in a decade. Thousands of American dairy farmers are quitting because of mounting costs, shrinking profits. In Wisconsin, "America's Dairyland," nearly 60 dairymen liquidate their herds every week.

The Agriculture Department is at a loss as to what to do in all this. With the ever-increasing flight from the farm, administration hopes of stepping up food production look dim. Droughts, floods, freezes, new crop diseases and plant pests make yearly crop estimates extremely unpredictable.

List Lengthens

On top of all this, the list of nations pleading for emergency shipments of U. S. food lengthens every year.

Even some former food-exporting nations are queuing up!

For example, the Republic of South Africa, agriculturally rich but now in the throes of a long drought, is considering an appeal to Washington for wheat.

Old customers keep coming back, too. Morocco, a chronic dependent, may require another 500,000 metric tons of barley. Algeria's sick economy needs a massive grain transfusion. Nasser's Egypt would also like a huge grain handout—with no strings attached, of course.

It is becoming obvious to many officials that there simply is not enough for everybody. This is what is shaking up the futures market.

Canada Sells to Reds

Meanwhile, Canada's farmers are selling bumper wheat harvests to the Soviet Union as rapidly as ships can be found for transport.

A new $800,000,000 contract binds Canadian farmers to deliver 330 million bushels of wheat to the Reds over the next three years. The mammoth contract is believed to be the largest single cash sale of wheat in history!

Meanwhile grain sold under previous enemy who would never help her in the reverse situation.

The Outcome

The United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, South Africa, other Commonwealth countries are the modern descendants of the ancient House of Israel of your Bible—believe it or not! This is proved in our free booklet, The United States and the British Commonwealth in Prophecy.

God prophesied that a coming time of drought and famine would ravage our sin-sick societies.

"Cursed shalt thou be in the city and cursed shalt thou be in the field. Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store. [Our overflowing surpluses are nearly gone!]" (Deut. 28:16-17.)

Continuing in verse 23: "And thy

Aid pours into India from the United States. This shipment of grain, a gift from the United States, helps with India's basic problem, too little food for its expanding population. But many Indians feel resentment and bitterness at the continuing dependence on U. S. aid.

contract is being shipped out so fast that an acute boxcar shortage has resulted. Canadian railroads have even had to lease 60 locomotives from the United States to handle the traffic to the port cities.

Canadians will very soon wish they hadn't so foolishly sold this precious commodity to a sworn enemy!—an heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron. The Lord shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed."

Now is the time for our nations to wake up to what is happening and turn to God before it is too late!
