Cincinnati Becomes 61st Church of God

Mr. Hill To Speak Here at Feast

God's people in the Chicagoland area are being blessed in once again having a guest minister here for the coming Holy Days. Mr. David Jon Hill, full-time instructor and administrative assistant at Ambassador College, will be here to instruct, admonish and inspire in his most vivid and unforgettable way.

For the past twelve years. Mr. Hill has been either attending classes at the College or taking an active part in God's work in the field, or both. He went out to Ambassador in 1951 and was graduated four years later. During 1955 he acted as a combination assistant office manager and teacher at the Imperial school (he taught first graders to read!) At the Feast of Unleavened Bread in 1957, he was ordained a Preaching Elder with the immediate responsibility of pastoring the Dallas and Houston, Texas, Churches.

In the Fall of 1959, Mr. Hill returned to Ambassador for further training. However, he began to TEACH more classes than he took! So a year later, he was brought back to Headquarters to assume a full teaching load, and, later, to pastor the Phoenix, and more recently, Tucson, Arizona Churches.

At the recent ministerial conference, Mr. Hill was ordained a Pastor. He is the Assistant overall evaluator of the Spokesman and Ambassador Clubs, and wrote much of the Speech Manual. Other duties include being Associate Professor of Theology; Instructor in Journalism, Geography and Speech; Managing Editor of the Good News; Faculty Advisor of the Portfolio, the College newspaper, and the Church of God News, Pasadena-Headquarters edition.

Mr. Hill and his wife, Audrey, have a son, Jonathan, who is a first-grader in the Imperial School. The Chicago area members welcome Mr. Hill and realize the blessing in having another of God's ministers to teach and admonish us.

February 23, 1963 witnessed the most important meeting in Cincinnati history! On that date began the newest Church of God—1932 years since the establishment of the Church at Jerusalem in 31 A.D.

Bad snows and the late arrival of the letter announcing the new Church kept the opening attendance down to 190. Most of those present had been driving 110 to 140 miles one way to services in Indianapolis every Sabbath! Now God has rewarded them for their zeal by giving them their own local Church!

Mr. Carn Catherwood, the Church's Pastor, gave the first message on having our whole hearts in God's work. Mr. Allen Manteufel came down from Chicago in Mr. Dean Blackwell's absence and gave the main message on the purpose of the Church of God.

After services there was a great deal of warm, enthusiastic hand shaking, many smiles, and fellowship. It was hours later when the last family finally left! We can rejoice with the Cincinnati brethren for the blessing of another local Church of God!

THE TEACHER

By Chris Lambos

What happens when you see numbers such as these, MCMLXIII or CMXCIX? Can you read these Roman numerals or are they all Greek to you? Why don't we stand fast when confronted with them and learn how to read and write them? The following instructions were given recently to my students at school; students who are only ten years old. At the end of this lecture they were able to read and write Roman numerals readily. So if they could do it, we certainly should be able to do it also.

The first thing we need is the tool which consists of seven parts. We need to know that;

I = 1, V = 5 X = 10, L = 50,
C = 100, D = 500, and M = 1000.

Next we need to know the rules which show us how to use this tool. The first rule tells us when a smaller number is placed to the left of a larger number we subtract. For example: IX means 10 minus 1 or 9. Also XL means 50 minus 10 or 40.

The second rule tells us when a smaller number is placed to the right of a larger number we add. For example; XI means 10 plus 1 or 11. Also LX means 50 plus 10 or 60.

The third rule tells us when two or more similar numbers are placed together we add them. For example II means 1 plus 1 or 2. Also XX means 10 plus 10 or 20.

The fourth rule enables us to write very large numbers. A bar placed over a number means we multiply that number by 1000. For example MM means 2,000,000. Also XICCC means 11,300. Now we are ready to write. Lets try to write these two numbers; 1963 and 1875. To write a number it is easier if we break it down in this manner;

1000 = M
900 = CM
60 = LX
3 = III

1963 = MCMLXIII

1000 = M
800 = CCM
70 = LXX
5 = V

1875 = MCCMLXXV

Mr. Carn Catherwood Weds Joyce Sefcak

Mr. Carn A. Catherwood, Preaching Elder of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Churches, married Miss Joyce Sefcak recently at Ambassador College, Pasadena. Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong conducted the ceremony in the classical Lower Gardens. Miss Beverly Baird was maid of honor and Dr. Dennis Luker (who accompanied Mr. Catherwood this past summer on a baptizing tour) was best man.

To read Roman numerals we break them down in this manner; Lets read MCCMLXIX and CMXCIX

M	= 1000	CM	= 900
CCM	= 800	XC	= 90
XL	= 40	IX	= 9
IX	= 9	CMXCIX	= 999
MCCMLXIX	= 1849

One little girl came up to me after I had finished and asked "Why can't we write 999 this way IM?" I didn't know and so I had to ask my college math professor. He said in all the years he had been teaching none had ever asked him that question. He didn't know either and so after doing a little research into the problem he found that the reason we don't write it that way is because of custom. 999 has always been written CMXCIX. If it was written any other way, people would not be able to read it. And so we never subtract I from any other number except V and X.

Below are listed a few numbers for practice;

8 = VIII	783 = DCCLXXXIII
36 = XXXVI	891 = DCCCXCI
53 = LIII	1442 = MCDXLII
86 = LXXXVI	1310 = MDX
93 = XCIII	120,400 = XIIICD
114 = CXIV	650,000 = DCL
175 = CLXXV	3,000 = MMM
333 = CCCXXXIII	666 = DCLXVI

Do you have a thermos bottle that fails to keep food hot? Take it apart, wrap aluminum foil on the outside of the glass part and replace jar in can. This will improve the bottle's ability to hold heat.

Vitamin B Important Factor For Food Utilization

By Dr. Duke Galloway

Question: What is the importance of Vitamin B in our diet?

Answer: Vitamin B is very necessary in our diet. The body requires it for proper nerve function and overall good health. When the supply in the system is exhausted the body demands more, as evidenced by all manner of symptoms. A deficiency of this important vitamin and its complex has been found to contribute to such diseases as polio, sleeping sickness, muscle atrophy, multiple sclerosis, diabetes, skin rash, pimples, and fatigue. The utilization and intake of other foodstuffs is directly affected by the B Vitamin intake.

Foods in which Vitamin B is most plentiful are legumes (such as beans and peas, whey, chicken, peanuts, egg yolk, whole grains, milk, fresh RAW fruits and vegetables, and cantaloupe. Brewer's yeast and liver are especially rich in Vitamin B. Sunflower seeds are "loaded" with Vitamin B, also containing a tremendous quantity of phosphorous which is essential for healthy gums, teeth, and eyes.

The B vitamins are soluble in water and they are lost when water, in which meats and vegetables have been cooked, is thrown away.

Some of the causes of Vitamin B deficiencies are: denaturalization of cereals by taking out the germinating parts; destroying the vitamin content by toasting and puffing the grain; eating refined sugar, candy, soft drinks; and the use of tobacco.

Many drugs are destructive to the Vitamin B in the system: it sometimes takes years to overcome the effects caused by the deficiencies which were brought about by the use of these drugs.

Synthetic Vitamin B preparations CANNOT supply the Vitamin B complex — it can be obtained ONLY in the food you eat, and in REFRAINING from eating and using those things which destroy this important vitamin in the body.
