Mr. Armstrong's programs to be shown on Jordanian TV

PASADENA — Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong completed his 13-day trip to the Middle East and the United Kingdom March 25, during which he was offered air time in Jordan for a World Tomorrow telecast and Church-produced films.

Aaron Dean, a local elder, is Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's personal aide.

During the trip Mr. Armstrong met with Jordan's Prince Hassan, brother of King Hussein, the prince's wife, Princess Sarvath, officials in Israel, and members of the Church's regional office in the United Kingdom.

Beginning his trip March 13, the pastor general left the Burbank, Calif., airport at 10 a.m. Pacific Standard Time (PST) aboard the Work's G-II jet. With Mr. Armstrong were personal aide Aaron Dean and Mr. Dean's wife Michelle.

While flying to Luton airport in England, Mr. Armstrong viewed World Tomorrow videotapes and the 1981 and 1982 Young Ambassadors Festival films, using a videocassette recorder installed aboard the G-II.

The G-II landed at Luton airport at 5 a.m. local time March 14, where Mr. Armstrong was met by evangelist Frank Brown, regional director of the Work in the United Kingdom, and other members of the British Regional Office staff.

In England Mr. Armstrong was joined by David Hulme, director of media purchasing for the Work and Church. Mr. Hulme had flown in from Pasadena, hand carrying videotapes specially made for review by Jordanian officials.

Before the pastor general began his trip, he taped a special World Tomorrow telecast for possible airing on Jordanian television, which included parallel accounts of creation from the Bible and the Koran, the Moslem holy book. The tapes, including copies of the Young Ambassadors Festival films, had to be transferred to European specifications for broadcast.

Tuesday, March 15, Mr. Armstrong and his group drove from the Dorchester Hotel in London to the Church's regional office in Borehamwood, England.

After discussing aspects of the Church and Work in the United Kingdom in meetings at the Regional Office, Mr. Brown brought up the possibility of publishing an edition of The Plain Truth in Norwegian.

Mr. Armstrong asked the staff of the British Office to explore the possibilities, adding he would discuss the possible edition with Dexter Faulkner, managing editor of the Work's publications, and Ray Wright, director of Publishing Services, before making a final decision.

The next day Mr. Brown, Paul Suckling, director of Ministerial Services for the British Regional Office, and Francis Bergin, business manager for the British Office, preceded Mr. Armstrong to the G-II to view tapes of Mr. Armstrong's World Tomorrow telecast. They expressed the hope of one day airing the telecast in the United Kingdom, but governmental regulations now prohibit it.

Herbert W. Armstrong names three new Feast sites for 1983

By Herbert W. Armstrong
It's that time again — to begin plans for the most joyous time of the year — the 1983 Feast of Tabernacles.

Once again we're going to say — "Best Feast ever!" For truly each Festival seems to become better, happier, more invigorating and inspiring than the year before.

This year we shall be one year NEARER to the glorious Kingdom of God, with Christ here in person, and Satan BANISHED!

I am writing high over the Atlantic Ocean, 39,000 feet up, in my office section of our G-II aircraft, returning from Amman, Jordan, and Jerusalem.

We have a TV set on board, equipped to play TV tapes. I have just finished viewing and hearing, once again, the 1982 Festival "Young Ambassadors" film — for perhaps about the 10th time. I never tire of it. I hope you all enjoyed it at last fall's Feast.

This article was mailed to brethren in letter form March 31. A summary of 1983 Feast sites appears on pages 5, 6 and 7.

Jordan TV is going to broadcast both the Festival 81 and Festival 82 films. They will be viewed all over Jordan, Israel, and even into Egypt and Cyprus.

Our students who, with our TV crew produced it, seem so wholesome, clean-cut, intelligent and talented — I feel no other college or university could produce such fine entertainment.

This year, because of budget expansions in greatly increased TV and radio coverage, and vastly increased Plain Truth circulation, we shall not produce another completely new Festival film, but will combine some of the best of the 1981 and 1982 films, with some needed update material.

If you enjoy these as I do, you'll look forward to a most enjoyable evening's entertainment again this autumn.

I played the 1982 film for a very distinguished small audience of Israeli leaders in my hotel suite while in Jerusalem, and they thoroughly enjoyed it.

Brethren, WHY should we look forward so eagerly to this coming Feast of Tabernacles? And, even more eagerly to the coming of Jesus Christ, and Kingdom of God? WHY has He called us OUT of this world, to be separate in the way we live?

The answer lies in the answer to another question: "DO WE REALLY UNDERSTAND THAT THIS IS NOT GOD'S WORLD?" It is SATAN'S world.

Festival Planner completed

By Mark McCulley

PASADENA — This year, for the first time, the Festival Planner will be distributed separately from The Worldwide News. The Festival Planner, which gives a list of housing available at all U.S. and Canadian Feast sites, has since 1980, been a supplement to The Worldwide News in April of each year.

Mark McCulley is Festival planning coordinator.

"All of those involved in planning the Festival felt that distributing the Festival Planner separately would increase its impact," explained evangelist Ellis La Ravia, a member of the Festival Team. "This will also enable all members in the U.S. and Canada to receive their information on housing at the same time."

The Festival Planner will be shipped in bulk to the pastors of all United States and Canadian churches, and distributed to the membership on a Sabbath in mid-April.

Members are encouraged to read thoroughly and make use of all the material in the Festival Planner, according to Mr. La Ravia.

"We have spent many hours of planning and effort in preparing the (See FESTIVAL, page 12)

How Vietnam's ghost paralyzes America

PASADENA — El Salvador has leaped into the news again. Guerrilla successes in the field against a Salvadoran army that evidently lacks both the skill and will to fight effectively have prompted renewed requests for military aid to El Salvador by a worried U.S. President Ronald Reagan.

What brought the Central American problem to the crisis stage was a grim report given to the President by U.N. Ambassador Jeane J. Kirkpatrick. In February Mrs. Kirkpatrick toured the embattled region, receiving information firsthand from leaders in the countries involved that things were going from bad to worse.

Shortly afterward, the President outlined U.S. Central American policy in a March 10 speech before the National Association of Manufacturers in Washington.

"I know a good many people wonder," Mr. Reagan said, "why we should care about whether Communist governments come into power in Nicaragua, El Salvador or other such countries as Costa Rica and Honduras, Guatemala and the islands of the Caribbean . . .

"People who make these arguments," continued the President, "haven't taken a good look at a map lately or followed the extraordinary buildup of Soviet and Cuban military power in the region . . . It isn't nutmeg that's at stake in the Caribbean and Central America; it is the United States' national security."

Soviet military planners, added Mr. Reagan, want to destroy America's capacity to resupply Western Europe in case of an emergency. "They want to tie down our attention and forces on our own southern border," he said, "and so limit our capacity to act in more distant places such as Europe, the Persian Gulf, the Indian Ocean, the Sea of Japan."

The March 21 U.S. News & World Report summarized the concerns of the President — not shared by many members of Congress — in this fashion: "Behind the Salvadoran struggle, Reagan believes, is a Communist threat 'aimed at the very heart of the Western Hemisphere and eventually at us.' At stake, in the President's view, are the vital sea-lanes of the Panama Canal, the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico, through which pass half of U.S. imports, including large quantities of oil . . .

"Equally central to the Reagan policy is a fear that victory by the insurgents in El Salvador would expose the governments of other Central American countries, including oil-rich Mexico, to similar subversion."

Echoing the President's concern is Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger. Secretary Weinberger has expressed his view that the ultimate aim of the Soviets in the Western Hemisphere is to bring revolution right up to the southern border of the United States.

This will cause the United States, Mr. Weinberger says, to bring military forces back from Western Europe and Asia to defend the national integrity of the United States. Europe and Asia would then be exposed to the full military and political leverage of the Soviets.

It would also force Western Europe and Japan to develop their own independent nuclear forces.

After the March 6 West German elections, Moscow probably realizes friends of the people and governments of Cuba and Nicaragua, and we're not ashamed of it. To the contrary, it makes us proud to maintain relations with these nations," Venceremos said. "Our war is and will continue to be national, but . . . we view our plans in the framework of a regional conflict in which there are interests of the people of Central America, the Caribbean and Latin America."

The curse of Vietnam, which crushed America's pride in its power (Leviticus 26:19), stalks the halls of Congress and the corridors that the "main front" in Europe will not be broken for some time. Under the time-honored Marxist tactic of "avoid strength, attack weakness," the Communists will probe Western — meaning mainly U.S. — weaknesses in other vital, but subordinate areas, such as central America.

Vietnam ghost stalks America

President Reagan finds himself face to face with the paralyzing ghost of Vietnam, which in essence says that it is useless for the United States to resist "national liberation" movements in other countries and areas, whether Communist-supported or not. This reasoning, of course, provides a clear path to the enemy, even though in most cases it may start out from an inferior position.

The Salvadoran insurgents, for example, notes U.S. News & World Report, "do not claim victory. Their stated objective they say, is not to defeat the Salvadoran army on the battlefield, but to force its disintegration through loss of morale and will to fight."

Breaking the enemy's will to resist is the aim of all warfare. This principle seems lost on many of President Reagan's critics in Congress who urge him to put pressure on the Salvadoran government to negotiate with the insurgents — despite the fact that the latter, fully aware of their numerical disadvantage, repeatedly reject such offers.

Those paralyzed by the ghost of Vietnam were surprised, but probably not dissuaded, when on March 13, El Salvador's leftist guerrillas declared on their Radio Venceremos (we shall overcome) station in Managua, Nicaragua, that they were "proud" to be linked to Cuba and Nicaragua in a regional struggle.

"We are and will continue to be of editorial offices all over America. Vietnam, editorialized the March 28 issue of The New Republic, "will continue for many years to weigh like a nightmare upon the foreign policy of the living . . .

"The endurance of the Salvadoran insurgency," added The New Republic, "has persuaded many Americans, commentators and Congressmen, that it is time for negotiations."

"The most commonly espoused goal of such negotiations is 'power-sharing.' Now, if there is one thing in the world that Leninists do not do, it is share power. How many revolutions will have to ruin how many countries before this is clear?"

Disaster ahead

One gets the distinct impression that, like in Vietnam, the United States will act haltingly, halfheartedly, fearfully — unsure of itself and of public opinion on the home front — until El Salvador and other dominoes to its north, south and east eventually topple one by one.

If — or when — Central America and ultimately Mexico falls, just think of the millions of refugees who will flee their Communist "liberators" — all seeking asylum in the United States. This would further convulse American society, a "side benefit" for Moscow, an expert told this author.

A perfect example of American halfhearted measures is the covert funding and supplying of anti-Sandinista forces operating from Honduras against Nicaragua. This is likely doomed to failure.

The Soviets and Cubans are not afraid to pour in enough power in Nicaragua to meet the challenge, (See VIETNAM, page 11)

Just one more thing

By Dexter H. Faulkner

Dust, guns, roadblocks

A few weeks ago I received a dramatic and gripping report from one of our ministers after an assignment in a Third World country.

The account describes a trip made to visit members and conduct Sabbath services in a remote area. Names of all concerned have been omitted as well as identification of geographical sites to protect the ministers and their wives and families and members in the country. The report follows:

The first thing I noticed was the dust.

Dust. Fine dust. It was tossed into the air by the vehicles bouncing along the road in front of us. The tiny grains of desert irritation were too light to settle to the ground. And so they floated in a cloud above the sun-scorched landscape.

At times the visibility was so bad that we could see no farther than the front of our four-wheel drive vehicle. We soon learned that it was impossible to defeat the dust. If we opened the windows the dust would swirl inside, settling onto our perspiring, sticky bodies. If we kept the windows closed, the heat was unbearable.

Hot, sticky and slow, we made our way through the long dust cloud. The 145-kilometer journey (about 90 miles) took us 5½ hours. During that time, I may have set a world record for the number of times I blew my nose.

However, the dust was not our main problem.

The road is bad. The multitudinous potholes caused me, my wife and the two ministers of the Worldwide Church of God traveling with us to bounce in our seats. If our vehicle had been damaged, there were no phones, no pickup trucks and no ambulances in the area. People who have accidents are left to bleed without help beside the road.

Even so, the road was not our main problem.

Driving standards are bad. People buy their drivers' licenses without training or testing, and drunkenness and drug addiction are common. One doesn't know whether the vehicle approaching is driven by someone under the influence of hallucinogens.

On a previous occasion the vehicle of the two area ministers was destroyed when it was hit by a bus driven by a drunken driver who was half out of his seat, dancing in the aisle at the time of the collision.

However, the low standard of driving was not our main problem.

Every few kilometers are army blocks. The undisciplined, scruffy-looking troops stop all vehicles. Sometimes they force the drivers to give them a ride. This has happened several times to our ministers in the area. Other times they confiscate vehicles for military use. Often they beat travelers with steel rods for who knows what.

Two of our ministers were taken out of their vehicles to be shot, but the shooting was prevented by a more senior officer who just "happened" to come on the scene a second or two before the killings were to take place.

Even so, the roadblocks themselves and fear of deliberate action by the soldiers were not our main problem.

The main problem was the way the soldiers casually pointed their machine guns into our vehicle at the roadblocks. The guns did not look clean and in good condition. And there is little that is more frightening than to have guns pointed at you by people of another race and culture.

We didn't know when a gun might go off accidentally. It was a joke in the area that everybody was in danger except someone the troops would be aiming at — they'd most likely hit someone else. On a journey like this one does not know whether the trip will be one way or round trip.

After many roadblocks, we eventually arrived at our destination. There we learned that no Church literature had made it through the postal system for the last four months. The brethren were surprised and happy to see us.

The telephone system was not working, so we had not been able to pass a message to the deacon who usually conducts the Sabbath services.

We learned that a Church member had made an attempt to travel to see us a few days before. He had not been successful. Along the way, three men forced themselves into his car. At the next roadblock the army asked the men if they were paying the driver for the ride. Since the soldiers had been beating people for paying for a ride, they replied, "No."

It wasn't their day. On this occasion the troops were beating anyone who was not paying for the journey. And so the men were taken out of the car and beaten beside the road until their backs were bleeding. They were then dragged away.

It was miraculous that the Church member was not beaten. His wife was let go, but he was taken to the army barracks and confined there for two days. While there, all the others in the cells were beaten.

It was a harrowing experience for him. He was not hurt, but his hair was shaved to humiliate him and his car confiscated. It is hoped his vehicle will soon be returned.

We conducted the Church services, and the service passed without incident. Just a few weeks before, the army burst into the service of a different church, and massacred the minister and the congregation that Sunday morning.

My wife and I were only in the area for a short time. But it was long enough to begin to adjust to the culture shock and appreciate the problems our ministers and members are experiencing in some of the Third World areas. As the world economy worsens, Third World governments are becoming desperate. And desperate people do desperate things.

An experience like this helps us to be prepared for when the Third World problems come to us in the West. As Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong has said for more than 50 years, the economy is going to collapse.

We may now be on the verge of that collapse. Soon the postal systems will no longer be operative in many parts of the globe. Also, religious persecutions will come. When that happens, there will be no more Good News magazines, Plain Truths, Bible Correspondence Courses or Worldwide News issues.

Thank God we have them now.

I believe you will agree with the deep-felt sincerity of that last statement. But, just how thankful are we for what freedoms and blessings we have? They won't be there for us to complacently take for granted forever.

Are we going to have to personally experience some of these hardships before we appreciate what we had? The writer of this report hopes not. He hopes by sharing his experiences with us we will be that much more concerned for the needs of those of our brethren living under dangerous conditions and lacking many times even some of the basic necessities of life.

Night to Be Much Observed

I just want to thank you so much for the article on the Night to Be Much Observed [Feb. 21].

My husband and I have hosted it almost every year for over 10 years. I was feeling very humdrum about yet another year of the same thing, when my husband asked me to be sure and take special notice of this particular article.

Your article inspired me to see it fresh and new again, with so many possibilities to make it a memorable occasion.

before 10 a.m., and he and his party took off for Amman, Jordan.

The G-II arrived at the Amman airport at 5 p.m. local time, March 16, where the pastor general was met by Mohammed Kamal, director of Jordanian television; Ghassoon Karah, principal of the Bunyat Center for Special Education in Amman; and Richard Weber, local director of the Ambassador Foundation's project with the Bunyat Center, and his wife Patricia.

March 17, Mr. Armstrong and his group were invited to tea by Princess Sarvath. Present at the informal affair were Khawla Abu-Odeh, wife of Adnan Abu-Odeh, the Jordanian minister of information; Mrs. Kalifeh, vice president of the Amman YWMA (Young Women's Moslem Association); Sirsa Hikmat, a professor at the Princess Sarvath Community College for Women in Amman; Mr. and Mrs. Dean; and Mr. and Mrs. Weber.

The princess' face beamed when Mr. Armstrong asked her how "our school" was progressing, referring to the Bunyat Center. The center is one of the princess' special projects.

The warm and cordial meeting included the princess telling Mr. Armstrong how she met Prince Hassan. The princess attended college in Cambridge, England, while the prince was enrolled at college in Oxford, England, the traditional rival of Cambridge.

Mr. Armstrong spoke of the goals of Ambassador College and discussed education in general. During the gathering the princess introduced two of her four children to Mr. Armstrong and his group, and

Before returning to his suite at the Amman Marriott Hotel, Mr. Armstrong called on Richard N. Viets, the American ambassador to Jordan, and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Weber had become acquainted with the ambassador, and Mr. Viets had expressed a desire to meet Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. Viets expressed his appreciation for the work that the college and foundation had done in the Middle East. After the meeting the ambassador accompanied the pastor general in the ambassador's official vehicle back to his hotel.

Back at the hotel, Mr. Armstrong met with Dr. Kamal and gave him the tapes prepared for Jordanian television. Dr. Kamal told Mr. Armstrong that they would review the tapes and inform him later whether they would be accepted for broadcast. Dr. Kamal left Mr. Armstrong's suite with the World Tomorrow tape and copies of the 1981 and 1982 Young Ambassadors Festival films.

On Friday, March 18, an official of Prince Hassan's office called Mr. Armstrong to request the pastor general's presence at the Diwan Palace in Amman at 10:30 a.m. the next day. The prince wished to see Mr. Armstrong.

Discussions with the prince

Mr. Armstrong arrived at the Diwan Palace and was quickly ushered in to meet the prince. Prince Hassan cordially greeted the pastor general and presented him with an ornate mother-of-pearl relief sculpture.

The prince conveyed apologies that his brother, King Hussein, could not meet with the pastor general because of official engagements in Bonn, West Germany, and London.

The prince asked Mr. Armstrong if he was still flying aboard the G-II jet. The prince was guest of the pastor general aboard the G-II during a June, 1974, flight to Aqaba, Jordan. Mr. Armstrong and the prince briefly discussed the merits of the newly designed G-III aircraft.

Before ending the meeting the prince and Mr. Armstrong discussed the involvement of the Ambassador Foundation with the Bunyat Center, and the pastor general related the meeting with Princess Sarvath and meeting the princess' son Rashad. Mr. Armstrong also mentioned that Dr. Kamal had picked up the World Tomorrow videocassette.

After the meeting Mr. Armstrong and his group drove to the Bunyat Center to view the school in session. Because of the Moslem observance of a Friday sabbath, the Bunyat Center is closed Thursday and Friday.

The pastor general briefly toured the school and the adjacent vocational school being organized by Mr. Weber. Mr. Armstrong was accompanied on the tour by Bunyat principal Karah, Mr. Hulme, Mr. and Mrs. Weber, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

At 3 p.m., after arriving back at the hotel, Mr. Hulme received the news from Dr. Kamal that the World Tomorrow telecast and the Young Ambassadors films had been accepted for broadcast on Jordanian television. They would be aired as specials in prime time sometime before July.

Later Mr. Armstrong conducted a Sabbath Bible study for the group in his hotel suite. The pastor general expounded an in-depth study on the origin of God's Sabbath, detailing how and why Israel lost the knowledge of the Sabbath, and, subsequently, their national identity.

On to Jerusalem

The next official stop on the tour was Jerusalem, Israel, where Mr. Armstrong met with several of his friends, including Moshe Kol, former Israeli government minister; Yosef Aviram, a professor at Hebrew University in Jerusalem; Binyamin Mazar, archaeologist; Michael Ravid, former Israeli general consul for Los Angeles, Calif.; and other friends of the Ambassador Foundation and Ambassador College.

While in Jerusalem, Mr. Armstrong talked with Sylvia Owen, a 1982 Pasadena Ambassador College graduate who participated in the City of David archaeological excavations and now lives in Israel.

On Tuesday, March 22, Mr. Armstrong played the 1982 Young Ambassadors film for the Ravids; Allen Freeman, a representative of Jerusalem mayor Teddy Kollek; Professor Mazar; Professor Aviram; and others. They were impressed with the quality of the production.

Thursday, March 24, at noon, Mr. Armstrong and his group boarded the G-II for the return flight to England. Mr. Armstrong was developing a sore throat and had canceled most of his engagements because he didn't feel up to par. Rather than take chances with his health, the pastor general decided to leave early to ease the trip back to Church headquarters in Pasadena.

The G-II landed at Luton airport at 3 p.m. local time, and Mr. Armstrong and his party went on to London. Mr. Hulme had returned by a commercial airplane to Pasadena from the Middle East.

Mr. Armstrong was host to a dinner meeting in his hotel suite for Mr. Brown and his wife Sharon that evening.

The next day, Mr. Armstrong and his group took off from Luton airport at noon. En route to Pasadena, Mr. Armstrong wrote the March 25 Festival letter to brethren, which is reprinted in this issue of The Worldwide News, and prepared his sermon for afternoon services on the first day of Unleavened Bread.

Clear, windy skies greeted the G-II as it touched down at the Burbank airport at 5:03 p.m. PST. On hand to greet the pastor general were evangelists Ellis La Ravia, Leroy Neff, Joseph Tkach Sr., Raymond McNair, counsel Ralph Helge, Italian regional director Carn Catherwood and others.

After discussing the trip, Mr. Armstrong climbed into his car for the 20-minute trip to Pasadena and his campus residence. Another trip to carry Christ's Gospel was completed.

Festival tithe: God's command to finance festival attendance

By Leroy Neff

One major concern in planning for and attending the Feast is finances.

Thankfully, God has shown us the way to handle the financial aspect of attending His annual feast days.

This article appeared in the September, 1981, Good News. Leroy Neff is treasurer of the Worldwide Church of God.

God explains feast finances for us in Deuteronomy 14:22-27: "You shall tithe all the yield of your seed, which comes forth from the field year by year. And before the Lord your God, in the place which he will choose, to make his name dwell there, you shall eat the tithe of your grain, of your wine, and of your oil, and the firstlings of your herd and flock; that you may learn to fear the Lord your God always.

"And if the way is too long for you, so that you are not able to bring the tithe, when the Lord your God blesses you, because the place is too far from you, which the Lord your God chooses, to set his name there, then you shall turn it into money, and bind up the money in your hand, and go to the place which the Lord your God chooses, and spend the money for whatever you desire, oxen, or sheep, or wine or strong drink, whatever your appetite craves;

"And you shall eat there before the Lord your God and rejoice, you and your household. And you shall not forsake the Levite who is within your towns, for he has no portion or inheritance with you" (Revised Standard Version).

We have called this tithe or 10th part of our income a second tithe; however, the Bible nowhere calls it by a specific name. We have more commonly referred to it in recent years as the festival tithe, as that is what it is used for.

This 10th of our income is not used for God's Work or the preaching of the Gospel, as the festival tithe belongs to us, to use in the way God specifies. God provides for the needs of His Work by His first tithe. The first tithe belongs to God and is not for personal use.

Here are some commonly asked questions about the festival tithe and their answers, based on biblical principles.

What is the festival tithe?

Simply stated, the festival tithe is a 10th of one's increase (income from personal effort), which is set aside for use in attending the annual festivals ordained by God.

How is the amount of the festival tithe calculated?

It is a 10th of your gross income, exactly the same amount as God's first tithe or 10th.

Is this amount commanded, or is it optional?

As the previous quote from Deuteronomy showed, saving the festival tithe is commanded by God, just as much as God's first tithe is commanded. Since it is a part of God's law, it is sin not to set a full 10th aside for the specified purpose.

How is it to be used?

The basic use of this money is to finance attendance at God's festivals, including (as specifically mentioned) food and beverages. The festival tithe would also cover travel expenses to and from the feast site, motel or hotel expenses and other related costs.

May any of this money be used to buy clothing?

The primary use of the funds is for travel, lodging and food.

However, in some cases, people may not have sufficient or proper clothing to attend the Feast of Tabernacles. In such cases, where there is sufficient money to take care of the other needs as well, it would be permissible for a person to use some funds to buy proper clothing so that he might be better able to go to the Feast and rejoice as God commands (Deuteronomy 16:11).

This permission in unusual circumstances, however, has been used by some to justify large or expensive purchases of clothing or even whole wardrobes. Using the festival tithe in this way violates the basic spiritual intent of the law.

What about using some of the funds for car repairs?

In some cases the family or personal car is not in condition to make the trip, or to safely make the trip, to the Feast site. Under such rare circumstances, if sufficient funds are available for the other necessities as well as minor car repairs, it would be within the spirit of the law to make repairs. In other cases it would be wiser to consider alternate transportation.

What about purchasing gifts?

Some members have purchased gifts for their children so that the children might better enjoy the Feast. Gifts for small children at Feast time help make the Feast special for them — a time to look forward to each year.

But in other cases, some people have overdone the giving of gifts at Feast time, sometimes buying expensive items they couldn't really afford. Usually such items are used during the rest of the year as well. This goes far beyond the principle of using the festival funds to provide a joyous, happy Feast.

Is it proper to use the festival tithe for side trips?

The use of this money to visit natural wonders or special scenic areas or places of historical interest on the way to or from the Feast certainly could make the Feast more enjoyable as well as profitable.

Some scenic wonders, such as the Grand Canyon or Carlsbad Caverns, can preach eloquent sermons to the glory and magnificence of the God who created them. Limited funds for even short side trips to such areas would certainly be well spent.

However, long trips involving excessive costs and time and taking you away from the direction of the Feast site should not be paid for with festival funds. If in doubt, counsel with your minister about this or any other questionable expense.

I have heard that it is permissible to borrow from the festival tithe if I pay back an additional one fifth.

This mistaken idea comes from a misunderstanding of Leviticus 27. This chapter has nothing to do with the festival tithe, but an altogether different matter.

Borrowing from the festival tithe is not borrowing but stealing. Quite a number have learned the hard way that this "borrowing" does not work. Here is a letter pointing out this very thing from a member who wrote after the last Feast of Tabernacles:

"Dear Mr. Armstrong,

"This has been the most spiritually enriching Feast of Tabernacles.

"I learned the hard way not to 'borrow' second tithe for my own use. Soon after I did so, my work 'dried up' and God showed me that without His blessing I could not replace the stolen tithe.

"When I finally appealed to Him to help me replace the second tithe I took, I again had work, but all my sources of income did not pay until after the Feast, so I didn't have the money to use during the Feast.

"I had enough second tithe to enjoy the Feast, but with the amount I had stolen the Feast could have been even more enjoyable. I am now able to restore the second tithe I stole, but the Feast is over and I can only send it in to you as excess second tithe. I have learned my lesson. I will never steal second tithe for my personal use again."

I have more festival tithe than I need. What should I do with the excess?

There are always those who have insufficient tithe to attend the Feast, or not enough to go and pay for normal expenses.

To provide for this need, it has always been the practice of the Church members who have more than they need to turn in this excess to the Church. The Church then, through the local church pastors, uses these funds to take care of such needs.

In the past, unfortunately, there have often been insufficient funds to send every less-fortunate person every year. It would be wonderful if everyone could attend every year. The following scripture indicates that such people should be provided for:

"You shall keep the feast of booths seven days, when you make your ingathering from your threshing floor and your wine press; you shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your manservant and your maidservant, the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow who are within your towns" (Deuteronomy 16:13-14, RSV).

The only way some of these people would be able to attend would be for others who have excess funds to assist them. Jesus said that it was more blessed to give than to receive (Acts 20:35). Those who do give for this purpose will have the special joy that comes from being generous and having an unselfish attitude.

What about new people in the Church, who have not been tithing

But have we not, most of us, let so much Protestantism rub off on us, that we just sort of take for granted that this is GOD's world — GOD's civilization? But it is SATAN's civilization, and always has been. I think we are the only church that knows that TRUTH. God is NOT trying to save this world — NOT trying to make it a better world.

Rather, Jesus came to start a NEW, a DIFFERENT world — an entire new civilization that will be GOD's world.

Long before MAN was created, God put angels on earth, with the superangel, the cherub Lucifer, on earth's throne to administer GOD's government based on GOD's WAY OF LIFE — GOD'S LAW! Lucifer rebelled and became Satan the devil. His angels followed him and became demons.

Then, with SATAN on earth's throne, ruling the earth CONTRARY to GOD's Law, God created MAN in His very image — capable of being begotten and then BORN into the very GOD long enough to save enough festival tithe to attend?

Such people ought to talk with their pastors. In some cases, it may be possible to assist them with enough funds for this one year, so that they can go. In other cases they should save their tithe and plan on attending the next year.

If someone does not have enough festival tithe to go to the Feast this year, may he stay at home and use his tithe there?

Let's let the Bible answer: "You may not eat within your towns the tithe of your grain or of your wine or of your oil, or the firstlings of your herd or of your flock, or any of your votive offerings which you vow, or your freewill offerings, or the offering that you present; but you shall eat them before the Lord your God in the place which the Lord your God will choose, you and your son and your daughter, your manservant and your maidservant, and the Levite who is within your towns; and you shall rejoice before the Lord your God in all that you undertake" (Deuteronomy 12:17-18, RSV).

I have heard some members talking about the tithe of the tithe. What is this?

Several years ago, because of the considerable expenses of providing the facilities and handling year-round administrative needs for the Feast, Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong directed all members of the Church to send in one tenth of their festival tithe to cover these costs. This is commonly referred to as the tithe of the tithe.

It pays for all the festival facilities, whether Church-owned or rented; operation of the Fall Festival; and other year-round festival-related expenses.

These questions and answers should help you use your festival tithe and to rejoice before God at the Feast. Your pastor should be able to answer other questions.

When you go to the Feast, remember two things. First, God's Work must continue even while you are away at the Feast. Most people who attend the Feast have income continuing during this time. Don't forget to send God's tithe as well as offerings during this time.

Second, remember Nehemiah's words concerning the festival: "This day is holy to the Lord your God... Go your way, eat the fat [good things, not animal fat] and drink sweet wine and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our Lord; and do not be grieved, for the joy of the Lord is your strength" (Nehemiah 8:9-10, RSV).

Family.

But to be born into the GOD Family, man had to acquire the very righteous and holy CHARACTER of God — to live like God lives. And GOD'S LAW is simply GOD's way of life — the way of LOVE to God and to fellowman.

But the first created man, Adam, had to make a choice — to follow GOD's way of LOVE, or Satan's way of rebellion, competition, animosity. Adam allowed his wife Eve to lead him into rebellion, SELF-centeredness, instead of LOVE and GOD-centeredness.

On Adam's decision for his human family, GOD CLOSED off the tree of LIFE from humanity — until Christ, the "SECOND ADAM" should come. God delivered humanity over to Satan's ways of SELF-motivation, UNTIL man would learn by experience that such ways lead ONLY to sorrow, pain, suffering, unhappiness, frustration, agony and DEATH!

At the same time God closed off eternal LIFE. He also decreed that the "Word" — the Logos, who also was God (John 1:1-4, 14) should come as man's SIN-BEARER — the "Lamb of God] slain from the foundation of the world" (Revelation 13:8).

When Adam made his fateful decision and God shut off the Holy Spirit, that was the "foundation of this world" — Satan's world. Also at that time, God decreed that it is appointed for all men once to die, BUT, after that death, a resurrection to JUDGMENT (Hebrews 9:27).

At the same time it was decreed, from that foundation of this world — Satan's civilization, that, as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall the same ALL be made alive in a resurrection — to judgment (I Corinthians 15:22).

So this world was founded in Adam — Satan's world. More than 1,959 years ago, Jesus Christ came — GOD in human flesh. As Satan's world was started, by one man, Adam, so God's world was started in embryo, by one man, Jesus Christ.

Satan's world consists of the children of Adam, starting with one man. Jesus called them the children of Satan the devil (see John 8:30-45, especially verse 44).

Worldwide News completes first decade

PASADENA — With the Vol. XI, No. 7 issue you hold in your hands, The Worldwide News passes its first decade of continuous publishing.

Since its first issue, published in Big Sandy April 1, 1973, the W/N has rolled off presses carrying news of God's Work 218 times. That figure includes the 13 issues produced under the Good News masthead from June 5 to Dec. 18, 1978.

"The Worldwide News has always been the 'eyes and ears' of God's Church," said Dexter Faulkner, managing editor of the W/N's publications. "Its guiding principles are not that of newspapers in the world that try to dig and burrow into gossip and expand 'high voltage' expose-type stories to sell subscriptions."

"Rather," he said, "the W/N editorial staff views The Worldwide News as Mr. [Herbert] Armstrong's personal vehicle to communicate on an official plane with members. He used it almost exclusively for several months as a major tool to correct previous doctrinal errors or misunderstandings, and to convey new truths God revealed to him."

"The Worldwide News can be used as a massive prayer list. We don't repetitiously request prayers for every single incident we report on. Instead, we try to objectively report both the relevant successes and problems the Work and Church at large faces," Mr. Faulkner said.

He noted that brethren, for example, could use the front page and "Update" section to pray about specific ongoing projects the Church is involved in. "We try to give in-depth, diary-like accounts of Mr. Armstrong's trips from Mr. [Aaron] Dean, his assistant, as soon as possible to allow brethren to 'beat small' their prayers," he said, referring to Leviticus 16:12 and Revelation 8:4.

During the W/N's decade of publication, coverage of Mr. Armstrong's trips to carry Christ's Gospel to the nations has always been of top priority. The first issue carried as its lead sentence in the lead article: "PASADENA — Chancellor Herbert W. Armstrong returned Feb. 18 [1973] from his latest trip to the Orient, during which he conferred with top officials in Japan and Thailand."

The May 28, 1973, W/N covered the presentation of the Order of the Sacred Treasure, Second Class, to Mr. Armstrong on behalf of Japan's Emperor Hirohito and then-Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka.

Beginning soon after the first issue, the W/N also covered the construction and later, the first concert in the Ambassador Auditorium.

While continuing its news format after more than five years of publication, The Worldwide News temporarily became The Good News tabloid June 5, 1978. In addition to reporting news of the Church, the publication began featuring strong spiritual articles written by Mr. Armstrong and other leading ministers in the Work.

It was at this time that Mr. Armstrong designated the tabloid publication as primarily a members-only product. On April 6, 1981, he made it exclusively a members' publication.

Mr. Faulkner noted that The Worldwide News has the advantage of flexibility. "Because of its tabloid nature, the W/N can quickly be reworked to include significant late-breaking news, or special inserts like the information that was included during the receivership crisis," he said.

Asked what The Worldwide News could expect in the next decade, Mr. Faulkner replied: "Greater growth, if recent trends continue. We've had the privilege to report the growth of The Plain Truth's circulation above 5.5 million, the rebirth and growth of The Good News, the victory of the Church in the receivership, the birth of Youth 81 [now Youth 83], the Work's financial stability in the middle of a terrible worldwide recession and dozens of other remarkable events."

"After all," he concluded, "as God calls more people and they become members of His Church, that means we have to produce more copies of The Worldwide News to send to them. I hope we will continue to have that privilege as we near the close of this age."

Vietnam

whereas the U.S. Congress will probably blow the whistle on the operation. Result: another Bay of Pigs black eye for U.S. prestige.

The United States has not learned the real lesson of the war in Vietnam: that, in this world, a nation must fight to win, not to fight a war "on the cheap" and with the limited objectives against a foe determined to gain total victory.

Solomon wisely said there is a "time of war" (Ecclesiastes 3:8, Revised Authorized Version) — and when engaging in it, like anything else, "do it with your might" (Ecclesiastes 9:10).

The Soviets on the other hand, did learn a lesson from the U.S. debacle in Vietnam, as expressed by Ian Greig, deputy director of Britain's Foreign Affairs Research Institute: "The American withdrawal from Vietnam," he said, showed the Soviets that "American domestic politics would not readily allow U.S. military intervention abroad again . . ."

Truly a national calamity of immense proportions awaits the United States from the ferment in its "soft underbelly" region.

NEWS OF PEOPLE, PLACES & EVENTS IN THE WORLDWIDE CHURCH OF GOD

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. — An acre-size (about 4,047 square meters) section of the roof at Blyth Arena here collapsed shortly before 1 p.m. Pacific Standard Time March 29, according to an Associated Press report.

Blyth Arena, a scheduled Feast of Tabernacles site for 1983, was rendered unusable by the collapse, said evangelist Ellis La Ravia, a member of the Festival coordinating team under Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong.

"We have contacted the owners of Blyth Arena, the Squaw Valley Ski Corp., and they said there was no possible way for the arena to be repaired in time for the Feast," Mr. La Ravia said.

"They are currently evaluating the state of the building and its future use," he added, noting that there was a possibility that the arena would not be rebuilt.

"We are now looking at possible replacement sites and hope to announce a new site for the area in about a month," the evangelist continued.

He said that press deadlines prohibited the removal of Squaw Valley housing information in the Festival Planner, and brethren should note that "the information is no longer applicable and should be ignored."

"We will be moving quickly to secure a new site," he said, "as the Festival is less than six months away." He stated that prayers of the brethren to resolve the matter would be appreciated.

PASADENA — "We expected about 200 people to attend the four Pura Verdad [Spanish Plain Truth] Bible lectures in Santiago [Chile]," said Keith D. Speaks, Pura Verdad promotional director.

Instead, of the 3,300 Pura Verdad subscribers notified, 248 Chileans (nonmembers) packed Santiago's Tupahue Hotel March 12, the first night. By the time the fourth lecture finished March 20, 438 new people had attended, said Mr. Speaks.

Mario Seiglie, pastor of the Santiago church, where more than 70 attend Sabbath services each week, conducted the four lectures.

"Mr. Seiglie was very enthusiastic," said Mr. Speaks. "Never has the response [about 13 percent] been so high. A fifth lecture took place the 26th and a sixth is scheduled."

Many are requesting booklets, Mr. Speaks added. As of March, about 9,500 Chileans were subscribing to La Pura Verdad.

PASADENA — About 100 students from Bunkyo Women's Junior College in Tokyo, Japan, will study English at Pasadena Ambassador College this summer, according to Arthur Suckling, Pasadena faculty member and director of the program, March 25.

The program, the third time Bunkyo students have studied at Ambassador, will involve intensive classes in conversational English, said Mr. Suckling. It runs from July 18 to Aug. 11.

Mr. Suckling said that Bunkyo is one of the leading private schools in Japan. The faculty of Bunkyo, looking for an appropriate place for the program, asked Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong in 1979 to have the program at Ambassador.

The women will live on campus, attending classes in the morning and visiting Southern California attractions in the afternoon.

Ambassador College faculty members John Beaver, Mark Kaplan, Ralph Levy, David Maas and Eric Mohr will teach the classes. Dale Randolph, former Ambassador College faculty member, will also teach.

JESUS DID NOT SET OUT TO CONVERT THIS WORLD OF SATAN'S. He CHOSE — virtually DRAFTED — 12 disciples and taught them GOD'S LAW and GOD'S WAY OF LIFE.

He ANNOUNCED the GOOD NEWS of the coming Kingdom of God — to be composed of the BORN children of God. He said NO ONE could come to Him, except such as GOD chose and drew (John 6:44). The promise of the Holy Spirit, even now, is ONLY to as many as the Lord our God shall call (Acts 2:39).

JUDGMENT is on us in God's Church TODAY (I Peter 4:17). All still living after Christ comes will be judged during the Millennium. All others, who shall have died, will be resurrected to judgment later.

So, brethren, Christ came to call us out from among them of the world, to live according to God's LAW — as a holy and rightteous people. We are the START of a NEW WORLD — the WORLD TOMORROW — the KINGDOM OF GOD.

For eight days next autumn we shall be separated from the world, among ourselves, enjoying a FORETASTE of the WORLD TO COME, of which we are pioneers.

This year we shall have 25 Festival sites in the United States and Canada, including new sites in Johnson City, Tenn.; Eugene, Ore.; and Victoria, B.C. Worldwide, there are 84 sites in 46 countries. More information will be sent to you shortly in The Worldwide News and a Festival Planner sent to members in the United States and Canada.

Brethren, as God shows us the importance of attending the Feast, it is equally important that all have been saving the second tithe to pay your own expenses and enjoyment at the Festival.

Of course, part of that expense is for rental of auditoriums or halls or convention centers and other expenses the Church must pay. So, as always, be sure to send in a tithe of your entire year's second tithe by return mail. Mark or list it separately from your regular first tithe or offering.

instructional articles, as well as the housing information," he said. He explained further that "much valuable information is contained in this publication that will help the brethren make their housing and travel arrangements for the Feast of Tabernacles."

Worldwide Feast sites are discussed in a separate article in this issue of The Worldwide News. Sites in the Caribbean were described in the Feb. 21 issue, and the March 7 issue covered sites in the British Isles, Ireland, Malta, the Netherlands and Denmark. The March 21 issue contained information on Jerusalem, Czechoslovakia and West Germany.
